Thompson,1997-02-13 About seventy years after the death of Jesus John of Patmos sent visionary messages to Christians in seven cities of western Asia Minor These messages would eventually become part of the New Testament canon as The Book of Revelation What was John s message What was its literary form Did he write to a persecuted minority or to Christians enjoying the social and material benefits of the Roman Empire In search of answers to these penetrating questions Thompson critically examines the language literature history and social setting of the Book of the Apocalypse Following a discussion of the importance of the genre apocalypse he closely analyzes the form and structure of the Revelation its narrative and metaphoric unity the world created through John's visions and the social conditions of the empire in which John wrote. He offers an unprecedented interpretation of the role of boundaries in Revelation, a reassessment of the reign of the Emperor Domitian and a view of tribulation that integrates the literary vision of Revelation with the reality of the lives of ordinary people in a Roman province. Throughout his study, Thompson argues that the language of Revelation joins the ordinary to the extra-ordinary, earth to heaven and local conditions to supra-human processes.

A Theology of Revelation J. Scott Duvall, 2025-03-25. A Theology of Revelation by J. Scott Duvall in Zondervan's Biblical Theology of the New Testament series provides a comprehensive look at the theology of John's Apocalypse. One of only a few dedicated theologies of Revelation, Duvall's book leaves no stone unturned in the study of the final book of the Christian canon of Scripture. This thoroughly researched study includes an investigation into the historical framework of the book, authorship, date, and occasion, and purpose; a survey of literary, theological, foundations, genre, text, and canonicity; grammar and symbolic language; use of the Old Testament literary structure and interpretation; and a full literary theological reading of the book, culminating in an exploration of the book's most significant theological themes: God, Jesus Christ, the Holy Spirit, the people of God, worship, discipleship, salvation, God's judgment of evil, and the new creation. Readers will find here a study that is clearly written, attentive to the historical literary context, with special attention given to the primary theological themes in the book. Perhaps above all, readers will have their hope in God and his amazing plan reinforced and strengthened.

A Series of Letters in Defence of Divine Revelation in Reply to Rev. Abner Kneeland's Inquiry Into the Authenticity of the Same Hosea Ballou, 1820.

Enigma: An Interpretative Commentary of Revelation Dr. Nathan Ogan, 2019-01-16. This has been offered to the reader as if to say that from the very outset, any study of Revelation that is done or offered without the direct application of Jesus' teaching, specifically His sermon on the Mount of Olives, is incomplete at best. The argument that God conclusively broadened His redemptive purpose, beginning with the Jewish people, then spread to all races, as promised in Matthew 28:19, rings true in Revelation when understood in the context of what Jesus taught. What's more, the development of temple-based worship into a simpler, spiritual-based worship, as expected in John 4:21-24, is equally difficult to ignore from what appears to have been fulfilled in the prophecy of Revelation as predicted by Jesus in His Mount of Olives sermon.
