Figures of Time Toni Pape,2019-04-04 Many contemporary television series from Modern Family to How to Get Away with Murder open an episode or season with a conflict and then go back in time to show how that conflict came to be In Figures of Time Toni Pape examines these narratives showing how these leaps in time create aesthetic experiences of time that attune their audiences to the political doctrine of preemption a logic that justifies preemptive action to nullify a perceived future threat Examining questions of temporality in Life on Mars the political ramifications of living under the auspices of a catastrophic future in FlashForward and how Damages disrupts the logic of preemption Pape shows how television helps shift political culture away from a model of rational deliberation and representation toward a politics of preemption and conformity Exposing the mechanisms through which television supports a fear based politics Pape contends will allow for the rechanneling of television s affective force into building a more productive and positive politics

The Abc's of Classroom Discipline Leroy G. Baruth,Daniel G. Eckstein,1976

Tales of Terror Bethami A. Dobkin,1992-04-20 Conventional research suggests that news coverage of terrorism is a tool of the terrorist to gain public support and recognition Based on an analysis of more than 200 evening newscasts aired during the first six years of the Reagan administration Tales of Terror offers a detailed account of the ways in which news media escalate public panic about terrorism and encourage support for specific U S policy objectives rather than build sympathy for terrorists Bethami Dobkin explores similarities between news media and government portrayals of terrorism combining textual criticism with an interpretation of official U S policy statements and argues that government depictions and news presentations of terrorism reproduce an ideology that supports military strength and intervention Dobkin examines several specific features of news coverage the dramatic format of television news and the political interests that this format serves the narrative construction of enemies by television journalists and public officials and the political significance of the terrorist label the use and significance of testimony particularly that of people affected by crisis the mutual exploitation of political crisis by both television news producers and public officials the function of journalism in shaping the conduct of public diplomacy and public perceptions of foreign conflict and the creation of consensus about the need for military responses to political violence This revealing study will be of particular interest to scholars of communications and political science in the history of American sport Abc's of Elementary Education: Robert Rose, 2000-10-13 Throughout the 20th Century theorists and teachers argued about the best way to teach reading In California when the whole language approach was in vogue many teachers were forced to ignore phonics I said forced and this was true Either they had to teach phonics secretly or they would be insulted degraded and intimidated to teach using whole language I ignored it like I had every other dictate that came from above that I knew was the latest way to teacher proof the curriculum Many children who could have benefited from an auditory method of learning reading were crippled in their decoding skills In Los Angeles in the Sixties teachers had to teach a phonics lesson every day but the sight word method was totally ignored A teacher could be in trouble if he emphasized the sight words At the time I started teaching I was only vaguely aware of the importance of the 220 most frequently used words It was when I began to teach Special Education children did I discover the importance of these words I incorporated teaching them into my reading and spelling lessons and for years they were the basis of my great successes at teaching first graders to decode far beyond their grade level They also became the mainstay of my SIGHT SOUND TOUCH Reading System kit When I read about the teacher who used language a writing approach to reading I tried it Instead of forcing them to read books she helped them write their own They read the one they wrote plus they eagerly read those written by their classmates I did it and it worked I will be using this approach during the 2000 2001 school year with Hispanic fourth graders who are the lowest in reading With some of my Special Education children I found that TOUCH worked I had them writing words and sentences in the sandbox It worked Another reading method that worked was having the children listen to tapes of the books they were expected to read In San Bernardino I worked for months dictating all the mandatory and supplemental readers the science and social studies textbooks up to the fourth grade level I would have these placed in listening centers with up to six headphones This worked too The truth was that everything worked but some children learned easier and faster with one method than with another Since I did not have an accurate way to diagnose which child learned best with each method of presentation I used them all I found that instead of arguing which was best that everyone benefited from a wide variety of materials and techniques I would emphasize one for a few weeks and then go to another It was very effective In ABCs I discuss each approach and how I used it My spelling method was very briefly discussed in the magazine THE INSTRUCTOR in 1980 It is easy to do and the children love it Especially the days they get to Challenge Dr Rose They look up words in any dictionary and I have to try and spell it They have to give me the same clues that I give them every day They must pronounce it correctly give me the number of letters in the word break it into syllables and give the number of letters in each and give me the definition With those clues I can spell almost any word but they love to stump me which they do Besides spelling they learn new words while they use a dictionary After years of frustration trying to put on plays I began to write my own I had experienced the frustration of long plays with a huge cast so every child had some lines I was tired of screaming at the children who were bored inattentive and got into mischief because they were waiting around to say their lines I had academic work for them but the action on the stage was distracting and I was busy as THE Director My plays we Variety TV REV 1991-92 17 Prouty,1994-03 First published in 1994 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Variety and Daily Variety Television Reviews, 1993-1994 Prouty,1996-10 This collection of essays and reviews represents the most significant and comprehensive writing on Shakespeare s A Comedy of Errors Miola s edited work also features a comprehensive critical history coupled with a full bibliography and photographs of major productions of the play from around the world In the collection there are five previously unpublished essays The topics covered in these new essays are women in the play the play s debt to contemporary theater its critical and performance histories in Germany and Japan the metrical variety of the play and the distinctly modern perspective on the play as containing dark and disturbing elements To compliment these new essays the collection features significant scholarship and commentary on The Comedy of Errors that is published in obscure and difficulty accessible journals newspapers and other sources This collection brings together these essays for the first time Haven't I Seen You Somewhere Before? James L. The Rise of the Anti-Heroine in TV's Third Golden Age Margaret Tally,2016-09-23 This volume offers a stimulating perspective on the status of representations of a new kind of female character who emerged on the scene on US television in the mid 2000s that of the anti heroine This new figure rivaled her earlier counterpart the anti hero in terms of her complexity and was multi layered and morally flawed Looking at the cable channels Showtime and HBO as well as Netflix and ABC Television this volume examines a range of recent television women and shows including Homeland Weeds Scandal How to Get Away With Murder Veep Girls and Orange is the New Black as well as a host of other nighttime programs to demonstrate just how dominant the anti heroine has become on US television It examines how the figure has arisen within the larger context of the turn towards Quality Television that has itself been viewed as part of the post network era or the Third Golden Age of television where new forms of broadcast delivery have created a marketing incentive to deliver more compelling characters to niche audiences By including an exploration of the historical circumstances as well as the industrial context in which the anti heroine became the dominant leading female character on nighttime television the book offers a fascinating study that sits at the intersection of gender studies and television As such it will appeal to scholars of popular culture sociology cultural and media studies
