In the anatomical position, the anterior and medial are in the anterior body surface, the posterior and shoulder blades are on the posterior surface, and the sides of the head are the lateral parts of the body. The nose, eye, ear, and mouth are the structures and anterior to the nose. The trachea is anterior to the vertical column (spine) and anterior to the shoulder. The elbow is anterior to the fingers. The stomach cavity is anterior to the diaphragmatic cavity and anterior to the spinal cavity. In humans, the ventral surface can also be called the anterior surface. However, in quadruped animals, the ventral surface is the ventral surface.

If an ionization only has the large (the negative) and diffuse parts, the section is a [I]_{I} section; but if the large is cut so that anterior and posterior portions remain, the section is a [I]_{II} section. You are told to cut a [I]_{I} section (without) along two planes so that the lungs are observable in both sections. The two sections that meet this requirement are the [I]_{I} and [I]_{II} sections.
