Respiratory System: The system of organs and tissues that enable an organism to exchange gases with its environment. The respiratory system is a complex system that allows an organism to take in oxygen and expel carbon dioxide. It consists of the trachea, bronchi, and lungs. The trachea is the windpipe, which leads from the throat to the lungs. The bronchi are the airways that branch off from the trachea and lead to the lungs. The lungs are the organs where the exchange of gases takes place.
