Nuri, 2011      The Crucifix on Mecca's Front Porch David Pinault, 2018-08-22 This book on Islam has an unusual perspective It argues that a critically minded examination of Islam can help Christians achieve a deeper appreciation of the unique truths of their own faith It draws on the author s personal experiences living in Islamic countries and his fieldwork with persecuted Christian minority communities especially in Pakistan Yemen Egypt and Indonesia It includes the author s own original translations of Islamic texts in Arabic Persian and Urdu as well as primary source materials in Latin that were written by Christian participants in the Crusades The author focuses on Muslim interactions with the Christian tradition He examines and takes issue with the misguided approach of those Christians and Muslims who in the interests of Christian Muslim rapprochement minimize theological differences between the two faiths especially in the area of Christology Such attempts at rapport he writes do a profound disservice to both religions Illustrating the Muslim view of Christ with Islamic polemical texts from the eleventh to the twenty first centuries the author draws on Hans Urs von Balthasar and other theologians of kenotic Christology to show how Islamic condemnations of divine weakness and neediness can deepen our appreciation of what is most uniquely Christian in our vision of Jesus as God made man who voluntarily experiences weakness suffering and death in solidarity with all human beings Both timely and urgently needed The Crucifix on Mecca s Front Porch invites readers to reflect on the stark differences between Christianity and Islam and to appreciate the uniqueness of the Christian faith
