The Report: Indonesia 2019 Oliver Cornock, The Indonesian economy had a strong year in 2018 with growth of 5.2% marking the fastest pace in half a decade This came on the back of robust domestic consumption increased foreign investment and continuing efforts to reform policy and simplify investment procedures and despite challenges including a falling rupiah a trade imbalance and global political issues      Handbook of Climate Services Walter Leal Filho, Daniela Jacob, 2020-01-17 This book explores climate services including projections descriptive information analyses assessments and an overview of current trends Due to the pressures now being put on the world's climate it is vital to gather and share reliable climate observation and projection data which may be tailored for use by different groups In other words it is essential to offer climate services But despite the growth in the use of these services there are very few specialist publications on this topic This book addresses that need Apart from presenting studies and the results of research projects the book also offers an overview of the wide range of means available for providing and using climate services In addition it features case studies that provide illustrative and inspiring examples of how climate services can be optimally deployed

The Report: Indonesia 2017 Oxford Business Group, 2016-11-10 Although Chinese and global demand low commodity prices and rising wages will continue to challenge trade growth in 2016 Indonesia remains on a positive trajectory Rising domestic demand increasing liberalization measures improvements to the investment climate and a shift towards value added production will bolster both exports and investment At the same time new trade agreements with the world's largest economies look set to drive long term trade expansion Prudent government policy an ambitious reform agenda and rising recognition of the role of the private sector should help to keep investment and trade stable in 2016 and despite exports and growth have dipped in recent years the country is well positioned to make the crucible transformation from a consumption to investment based economy      The Report: Indonesia 2018 Oliver Cornock, 2018 In 2018 the Indonesian economy recorded a growth rate of 5.2% the highest in five years This was in spite of a slump in the rupiah and a trade imbalance and took place against a backdrop of rising US interest rates and deteriorating trade relations between the world's two biggest economies The country's emphasis on industrialisation and infrastructure development is laying the foundations for continued economic growth Moreover the archipelago's growing middle class population geographical position and human capital development agenda alongside progress in free trade agreements make it a strong contender on the global economic stage The country holds considerable potential for developing entrepreneurial and creative prowess already being home to four unicorn startups Investors have continued to look beyond traditional destinations with emerging cities like Surabaya and Palembang showing strong possibilities for economic growth Although the outcome of the April 2019 national election will determine the course of further infrastructure development and tax reforms the future looks promising with predictions of continued growth accompanied by stable inflation
