archival evidence from the previously unseen archives of Vclav Havel's main theatre translator Vera Blackwell which includes drafts of playscripts legal negotiations reviews interviews notes and previously unseen correspondence over thirty years with Havel and central figures of the theatre world such as Kenneth Tynan Martin Esslin and Tom Stoppard Michelle Woods uses this previously unresearched archive to explore broader questions on censorship asking why texts are translated at a given time who translates them how their identity may affect the translation and how the constituents of success in a target culture may involve elements of censorship
