The Autobiography Of An Ex Coloured Man Lesson Plans:

The African American Male, Writing, and Difference W. Lawrence Hogue, 2012-02-01 In this wide ranging analysis W Lawrence Hogue argues that African American life and history is more diverse than even African American critics generally acknowledge Focusing on literary representations of African American males in particular Hogue examines works by James Weldon Johnson William Melvin Kelley Charles Wright Nathan Heard Clarence Major James Earl Hardy and Don Belton to see how they portray middle class Christian subaltern voodoo urban jazz blues postmodern and gay African American cultures Hogue shows that this polycentric perspective can move beyond a racial uplift approach to African American literature and history and help paint a clearer picture of the rich diversity of African American life and culture

Writing Jazz Nicholas M. Evans, 2015-12-22 This study examines how early writers of jazz criticism such as Gilbert Seldes and Carl Van Vechten and literature F Scott Fitzgerald and Langston Hughes as well as jazz performers and composers such as Al Jolson Sophie Tucker and George Gershwin associated the music directly with questions about identity racial ethnic national gendered and sexual and with historical developments like industrialization Going beyond the study of melody harmony and rhythm this book s interdisciplinary approach takes seriously the cultural beliefs about jazz that inspired interracial contact moralistic panic bohemian slumming visions of American democracy and much more Detailed textual analysis of fiction nonfiction film and musical performance illustrates the complexity of these cultural beliefs in the 1920s and also shows their survival to the present day In part jazz absorbed the U S cultural imagination due to the nineteenth century artistic search for music that would define the national character To the chagrin of Anglo Saxon nativists jazz ascended as an exemplar of cultural hybridity and pluralism The writers and entertainers studied in this volume most of whom were minorities of Jewish Irish or African heritage hailed the new social possibilities that they heard and felt in jazz Yet most of them also qualified their enthusiasm by remaining wary of both the seductions of jazz s commercialization and the loss of ethnic identity in the melting pot

Women Writing the American Artist in Novels of Development from 1850-1932 Rickie-Ann Legleitner, 2021-05-06 In nineteenth and early twentieth century artist novels American women writers challenge cultural social and legal systems that attempt to limit or diminish women s embodied capabilities outside of the domestic Women writers such as E D E N Southworth Elizabeth Stuart Phelps Kate Chopin Willa Cather Jessie Fauset and Zella Fitzgerald use the artist novel to highlight the structural and material limitations that women artists face when attempting to achieve critical success while navigating inequitable marriages and social codes that restrict women s mobility education and pursuit of vocation These artist rebel protagonists find that their very bodies demand an outlet to articulate desires that defy patriarchal rhetoric and this demand becomes an artistic drive to express an embodied knowledge through artistic invention Ultimately these women writers empower their heroines to move beyond prescribed patriarchal identities in order to achieve autonomous subjectivity through their artistic development challenging stereotypes surrounding gender race and ability and beginning to reshape cultural notions of marriage motherhood and artistry at the turn of the twentieth century

Afro-American Writing Richard A. Long, Eugenia W. Collier, 2010-11-01 Representing Segregation Brian Norman, Piper Kendrix Williams, 2012-02-01 As a touchstone issue in American history segregation has had an immeasurable impact on the lives of most ethnic groups in the United States Primarily associated with the Jim Crow South and the court cases Plessy v Ferguson 1896 and Brown v Board of Education 1954 segregation comprises a diverse set of cultural practices ethnic experiences historical conditions political ideologies municipal planning schemes and de facto social systems Representing Segregation traces the effects of these practices on the literary imagination and proposes a distinct literary tradition of representing segregation Contributors engage a cross section of writers literary movements segregation practices and related experiences of racial division in order to demonstrate the richness and scope of responses to segregation in the late nineteenth and twentieth centuries By taking up the cultural expression of the Jim Crow period and its legacies this collection reorients literary analysis of an important body of African American literature in productive new directions

Henry James and the Writing of Race and Nation Sara Blair, 1996-01-26 This 1996 book describes a new Henry James who rather than being paraded as a beacon of high culture actually expresses a nuanced understanding of and engagement with popular culture Arguing against recent trends in critical studies which locate racial resistance in popular culture Sara Blair uncovers this resistance within literature and high modernism She analyses a variety of texts from early travel writing to The Princess Casamassima The American Scene and The Tragic Muse always setting the scene through descriptions of key events of the time such as Jack the Ripper's murders Blair makes a powerful case for reading James with a sense of sustained contradiction and her project absorbingly argues for the historical and ongoing importance of literary texts and discourses to the study of culture and cultural value

African American Authors, 1745-1945 Emmanuel S. Nelson, 2000-01-30 There has been a dramatic resurgence of interest in early African American writing Since the accidental rediscovery and republication of Harriet Wilson's Our Nig in 1983 the works of dozens of 19th and early 20th century black writers have been recovered and reprinted There is now a significant revival of interest in the Harlem Renaissance of the 1920s and in the last decade alone several major assessments of 18th and 19th century African American literature have been published Early African American literature builds on a strong oral tradition of songs folktales and sermons Slave narratives began to appear during the late 18th and early 19th century and later writers began to engage a variety of themes in diverse genres A central objective of this reference book is to provide a wide ranging introduction to the first 200 years of African American literature Included are alphabetically arranged entries for 78 black writers active between 1745 and 1945 Among these writers are essayists novelists short story writers poets playwrights and autobiographers Each entry is written by an expert contributor and provides a biography a discussion of major works and themes an overview of the author's critical reception and primary and secondary bibliographies The volume concludes with a selected general bibliography Latining America Claudia

Milian, 2013-02-01 With Latining America Claudia Milian proposes that the economies of blackness brownness and dark brownness summon a new grammar for Latino a studies that she names Latinities Milian's innovative study argues that this ensnared economy of meaning startles the typical reading practices deployed for brown Latino a embodiment Latining America keeps company with and challenges existent models of Latinidad demanding a distinct paradigm that puts into question what is understood as Latino and Latina today Milian conceptually considers how underexplored Latin participants the southern the black the dark brown the Central American have ushered in a new world of Latined signification from the 1920s to the present Examining not who but what constitutes the Latino and Latina Milian's new critical Latinities disentangle the brown logic that marks Latino a subjects She expands on and deepens insights in transamerican discourses narratives of passing popular culture and contemporary art This daring and original project uncovers previously ignored and unremarked upon cultural connections and global crossings whereby African Americans and Latinos traverse and reconfigure their racialized classifications

Telling Narratives Leslie W. Lewis, 2024-03-18 Telling Narratives analyzes key texts from nineteenth and early twentieth century African American literature to demonstrate how secrets and their many tellings have become slavery's legacy. By focusing on the ways secrets are told in texts by Jessie Fauset, Charles W. Chesnutt, Pauline Hopkins, Frederick Douglass, and others, Leslie W. Lewis suggests an alternative model to the feminist dichotomy of breaking silence in response to sexual violence. This fascinating study also suggests that masculine bias problematically ignores female experience in order to equate slavery with social death. In calling attention to the sexual behavior of slave masters in African American literature, Lewis highlights its importance to slavery's legacy and offers a new understanding of the origins of self-consciousness within African American experience.

From Behind the Veil Robert B. Stepto, 1991 This pioneering study of Afro American narrative is far more critical, historical, and textual than biographical, chronological, and atextual. Robert Stepto asserts that Afro American culture has its store of canonical stories or pregeneric myths, the primary one being the quest for freedom and literacy. This second edition includes a new preface and an afterword entitled Distrust of the Reader in Afro American Narratives.

The Hammers of Creation Eric J. Sundquist, 2006-03-01 Provides an analysis of the powerful role played by folk culture in 3 major African American novels of the early 20th century: The Autobiography of an Ex-Coloured Man, Jonah's Gourd Vine, and Black Thunder. This book explains how the survival of cultural traditions originating in Africa and in slavery became a means of historical reflection.

Antebellum Slave Narratives Jermaine O. Archer, 2009-01-13 This book examines the slave narratives of key members of the abolitionist movement: Frederick Douglass, William Wells Brown, Harriet Tubman, and Harriet Jacobs, revealing how these highly visible proponents of the antislavery cause were able to engage and at times overcome the cultural biases of their listening and reading audiences.
