Vda 6 3 Process Audit:

Automotive Production Systems and Standardisation Constanze Clarke, 2006-03-30 In January 2000 Mercedes Benz started to implement the Mercedes Benz Production System MPS throughout its world wide passenger car plants This event is exemplary of a trend within the automotive industry the creation and introduction of company specific standardised production systems It gradually emerged with the introduction of the Chrysler Operating System COS in the mid 1990s and represents a distinct step in the process towards implementing the universal principles of lean thinking as propagated by the MIT study For the academic field of industrial sociology and labour policy the emergence of this trend seems to mark a new stage in the evolution of the debate about production systems in the automotive industry J rgens 2002 2 particularly as it seems to undermine the stand of the critics of the one best way model Boyer and Freyssenet 1995 The introduction of company level standardised production systems marks the starting point of the present study At the core of it is a case study about the Mercedes Benz Production System MPS removed local genius or local wisdom from the life of society Since the ultimate goal of humanity is respecting the dignity of human beings hence bringing back humanity to the center of the development program is crucial especially in the current social and political dynamics In the political context humanity means respecting the basic rights of the citizen and putting them as a subject of political development and not perceiving citizens as only an instrument to win political power Based on the above background this conference is organized The overall goal of the conference is to mainstream humanity in the current social and political change The conference is also expected to be an arena for scholars and experts in social and political science as well as practitioners and policymakers to meet and exchange ideas and perspectives for a better future of our society Quality Today ,2002
