

Das Projekt ist ein Beispiel für eine innovative Nutzung von Raum und Licht. Die roten Wände und der glänzende Boden schaffen eine warme, einladende Atmosphäre. Die weiße Treppe und die hellen Lichter sorgen für einen Kontrast, der die Architektur hervorhebt. Die Person auf der Treppe fügt eine menschliche Note hinzu und betont die Skalierbarkeit des Raums.

Materialize Mobilize Simulate and Transform highlight the shift from the manipulation of quantitative variables to interactive relationships effecting qualitative outcomes in design For example Materialize explores the potential of eco design beyond the traditional palette of materials to show how spatial boundaries can be re imagined as gradients of conditioned versus unconditioned space working with climatic conditions rather than material boundaries to help generate new forms of urban architecture

Reading Architecture Angeliki Sioli, Yoonchun Jung, 2018-04-09

Why write instead of draw when it comes to architecture? Why rely on literary pieces instead of architectural treatises and writings when it comes to the study of buildings and urban environments? Why rely on literary techniques and accounts instead of architectural practices and analysis when it comes to academic research and educational projects? Why trust authors and writers instead of sociologists or scientists when it comes to planning for the future of cities? This book builds on the existing interdisciplinary bibliography on architecture and literature but prioritizes literature's capacity to talk about the lived experience of place and the premise that literary language can often express the inexpressible. It sheds light on the importance of a literary instead of a pictorial imagination for architects and it looks into four contemporary architectural subjects through a wide variety of literary works. Drawing on novels that engage cities from around the world, the book reveals aspects of urban space to which other means of architectural representation are blind. Whether through novels that employ historical buildings or sites interpreted through specific literary methods, it suggests a range of methodologies for contemporary architectural academic research. By exploring the power of narrative language in conveying the experience of lived space, it discusses its potential for architectural design and pedagogy. Questioning the massive architectural production of today's globalized capital-driven world, it turns to literature for ways to understand, resist, or suggest alternative paths for architectural practice. Despite literature's fictional character, the essays of this volume reveal true dimensions of and for places beyond their historical, social, and political reality, dimensions of utmost importance for architects, urban planners, historians, and theoreticians nowadays.

POP-UP HOTEL REVOLUTION, the architectural innovation about to come in the hotel industry Joseph Di Pasquale, Chiara Butta, Paola Zatti, 2015

WHICH IS MOVING PEOPLE OR ARCHITECTURE? In an era where nomadism is the keyword that relates people to the rest of the world, architecture is seeking for a concrete response to the recent needs resulting from the rise of mobility and worldwide travels. The proposal of new modular structures for the hospitality market defines the tendency to think movable, modular, flexible. Dwell, 2009-02 At Dwell we're staging a minor revolution. We think that it's possible to live in a house or apartment by a bold modern architect to own furniture and products that are exceptionally well designed and still be a regular human being. We think that good design is an integral part of real life. And that real life has been conspicuous by its absence in most design and architecture magazines.

Architecture's Appeal Marc Neveu, Negin Djavaherian, 2015-02-11 This collection of previously unpublished essays from a diverse range of well-known scholars and architects builds on the architectural tradition of phenomenological hermeneutics as developed by Dalibor Vesely and Joseph Rykwert and carried on by David Leatherbarrow, Peter Carl, and Alberto Pérez Gómez. Taking an interdisciplinary approach and drawing on ideas from beyond the architectural canon, contributors including Kenneth Frampton, David Leatherbarrow, Juhani Pallasmaa, Karsten Harries, Steven Holl, Indra Kagi, McEwen, Paul Emmons, and Louise Pelletier offer new insights and perspectives on questions such as the following: Given the recent fascination with all things digital and novel what is the role of history and theory in contemporary architectural praxis Is authentic meaning possible in a technological environment that is so global and interconnected What is the nature and role of the architect in our shared modern world How can these questions inform a new model of architectural praxis Architecture's Appeal is a thought provoking book which will inspire further scholarly inquiry and act as a basis for discussion in the wider field as well as graduate seminars in architectural theory and history Pyrotechnic Cities Liam Ross, 2022-06-24 This book explores the relationship between architecture government and fire It posits that through the question of fire safety standardisation building design comes to be both a problem for and a tool of government Through a close study of fire safety standards it demonstrates the shaping effect that architecture and the city have on the way we think about governing Opening with an investigation into the Grenfell Tower fire and the political actors who sought to enrol it in programmes of governmental reform before contextualising the research in current literature the book takes four city studies each beginning with a specific historic fire The 1654 Great Fire of Meirecki Edo the 1877 town fire of Lagos the 1911 Empire Palace Theatre fire Edinburgh and the 2001 World Trade Centre attack New York Each study identifies the governmental response to the fire safety standards and codes designed in its wake and how these new processes spread and change Drawing on the work of sociologists John Law and Anne Marie Mol and their concept of Fire Space it describes the way that architectural design through the medium of fire is an instrument of political agency Pyrotechnic Cities is a critical investigation into these political implications written for academics researchers and students in architectural history and theory infrastructure studies and governance
