Exploring Vancouver Harold Kalman, Robin Ward, 2012-04-27 Vancouver's streetscapes and neighbourhoods have changed drastically in recent years New buildings representing current architectural trends are mixing with and often replacing those of earlier eras and tastes and a maturing architectural melange is emerging This book invites the reader to explore the city's continually evolving urban landscape in a highly readable yet authoritative guide to its architecture In this completely updated edition of Exploring Vancouver with brand new entries and accompanying photographs Harold Kalman and Robin Ward have divided the city including the North Shore Richmond Burnaby and New Westminster into fourteen areas selecting buildings and structures in these neighbourhoods that represent the best examples of the new and old architecture Each area is preceded by an informative introduction that provides historical context for the entries that follow There are over 400 entries each featuring a short description that combines architectural historical and social commentary The prose is lively as the authors consider the new and the old the modest and the grand the attractive and the not so attractive in a wide ranging work that encompasses everything from heritage to monster homes This book is designed as a walking tour guide with a map of each area showing the location of every entry

Maps and History Jeremy Black, 2000-01-01 Explores the role development and nature of the atlas and discusses its impact on the presentation of the past

Unsettling the City Nicholas Blomley, 2004-06-01 Short and accessible this book interweaves a discussion of the geography of property in one global city Vancouver with a more general analysis of property politics and the city

A Brief History of the Pacific Jeremy Black, 2023-09-07 This brilliantly concise history of the Pacific Ocean nevertheless succeeds in examining both the indigenous presence on ocean's islands and Western control or influence over the islands and shores There is a particular focus on the period from the 1530s to 1890 with its greater Western coastal and oceanic presence in the Pacific beginning with the Spanish takeover of the coasts of modern Central America Colombia Ecuador and Peru and continuing with the Spaniards in the Philippines There is also an emphasis on the very different physical and human environments of the four quadrants of the Pacific the north east the north west the south east and the south west and of the coastal islands that is the Aleutians Japan and New Zealand and continental coastlines The focus is always on the interactions of Japan California Peru Australia and other territories with the ocean notably in terms of trade migration and fishing Black looks first at the geology currents winds and physical make up of the Pacific then the region s indigenous inhabitants to 1520 He describes the Pacific before the arrival of Europeans its history of settlement navigation methods and religious practices From Easter Island the focus shifts to European voyages from Magellan to Cook and Tasman the problems they faced not least the sheer scale of the ocean Black looks at the impact of these voyages on local people including the Russians in the Aleutian Islands Outside control of the region grew from 1788 to 1898 The British laid claim to Australia and America to the Phillipines Western economic and political impact manifested in sandalwood and gold rushes and the coming of steamships accelerated this impact Territorial claims spread through Willis Perry and the Americans including to Hawaii Black looks at the Maori wars in New Zealand and the War of the Pacific on the South American coast Christian missionary activity increased and Gauguin offered a different vision of the Pacific 1899 to 1945 marked the struggle of empires the rise of Japan as an oceanic power and the Second World War in the Pacific as a critical moment in world history Oil powered ships ushered in the American Age from 1945 to 2015 bringing the end of the British Pacific France had a continued role in Tahiti and New Caledonia but America had become the dominant presence Black explores the political economic and cultural impacts of for example Polynesians attending universities in America and Australasia the spread of rugby and relatively little international tension although some domestic pressures remained including instability in Papua New Guinea and Fiji The book ends with a look at the Pacific s future pressures from industrial fishing pollution and climate change the rise of drug smuggling greater Chinese influence leading to conflict with America and Australasia the Pacific is once again on the frontline of military planning But the Pacific s future also includes tourism from Acapulco to Hawaii and from Tahiti to Cairns

A Visual History of HIV/AIDS Elisabet Björklund, Mariah Larsson, 2018-07-04

The Face of AIDS film archive at Karolinska Institutet Sweden consists of more than 700 hours of unedited and edited footage shot over a period of more than thirty years and all over the world by filmmaker and journalist Staffan Hildebrand The material documents the HIV AIDS pandemic and includes scenes from conferences and rallies and interviews with activists physicians people with the infection and researchers It represents a global historical development from the early years of the AIDS crisis to a situation in which it is possible to live a normal life with the HIV virus This volume brings together a range of academic perspectives from media and film studies medical history gender studies history and cultural studies to bear on the archive shedding light on memories discourses trauma and activism Using a medical humanities framework the editors explore the influence of historical representations of HIV AIDS and stigma in a world where antiretroviral treatment has fundamentally altered the conditions under which many people diagnosed with HIV live Organized into four sections this book begins by introducing the archive and its role setting it in a global context The first part looks at methodological legal and ethical issues around archiving memories of the present which are then used to construct histories of the past something that can be particularly controversial when dealing with a socially stigmatized epidemic such as HIV AIDS The second section is devoted to analyses of particular films from the archive looking at the portrayal of people living with HIV AIDS the narrative of HIV as a chronic illness and the contemporary context of particular films The third section looks at how stigma and trauma are negotiated in the material in the Face of AIDS film archive discussing ideas about suffering and culpability The final section contributes perspectives on and by the filmmaker as activist and auteur This interdisciplinary collection is placed at the intersection of medical humanities sexuality studies and film and media studies continuing a tradition of studies on the cultural and social understandings of HIV AIDS Becoming British Columbia John Belshaw,2009-07-01

Becoming British Columbia is the first comprehensive demographic history of British Columbia Investigating critical moments in the demographic record and linking demographic patterns to larger social and political questions it shows how biology politics and history conspired with sex death and migration to create a particular kind of society John Belshaw overturns the widespread tendency to associate population growth with progress He reveals that the province has a long tradition of thinking and acting vigorously in ways meant to control and shape biological communities of humans and suggests that imperialism race class and gender have historically situated population issues at the centre of public consciousness in British Columbia A Brief History of History Jeremy Black,2023-08-22 In A Brief History of History acclaimed historian Jeremy Black seeks to reinvigorate and redefine our ideas about history The stories we tell about the past are a crucial aspect of all cultures However while the traditional storytelling process what we think of as history in the proper sense is useful it is also misleading not least because it leads to the repetition of bias and misinformation Black suggests that the conventional idea of history and historians is constructed too narrowly as it fails to engage with the broad nature of lived experience By focusing on a singular idea or story within the history being explored we fail to understand the interconnectivity of the everyday experience A Brief History of History challenges accepted norms of the historical perspective and offers a view of human history that will surprise many and perhaps infuriate some But above all it is a history of historians written for this moment in time a time when the traditional Eurocentric approach to history now appears wholly inappropriate

The Manly Modern Christopher Dummitt,2011-11-01 How did one act like a modern man in postwar Canada With a great deal of difficulty During the Great Depression and Second World War many men were first out of work and then away from their families After the war came attempts to re establish the traditional gender hierarchy by emphasizing men s modernity allegedly superior rationality and ability to handle risk but the strategy had contradictory repercussions The Manly Modern Masculinity in Postwar Canada traces the history of what happened when men s supposed modernity became one of their defining features Through a series of case studies covering such diverse subjects as car culture mountaineering war veterans murder trials and a bridge collapse Christopher Dummitt argues that the very idea of what it meant to be modern was gendered A strong current of anti modernist sentiment bubbled just beneath the surface of postwar masculinity creating rumblings about the state of modern manhood that ironically mirrored the tensions that burst forth in 1960s gender radicalism The first major book on the history of masculinity in Canada The Manly Modern will appeal to scholars and students in history gender studies and cultural studies as well as to readers interested in the history and social construction of gender

Live at the Commodore Aaron Chapman,2015-03-16 Vancouver s Commodore Ballroom is like New York s CBGB s and Los Angeles s Whiskey a Go Go one of the most venerated rock clubs in the world originally built in 1930 it s hosted a who s who of music greats before they made it big The Police The Clash Blondie Talking Heads Nirvana New York Dolls U2 and more recently Lady Gaga and the White Stripes Filled with never before published photographs posters and paraphernalia Live at the Commodore is a visceral energetic portrait of one of the world s great rock venues Aaron Chapman is a musician and journalist and the author of Liquor Lust and the Law

Maps and Politics Jeremy Black,2000-09-01 We all rely on the apparent accuracy and objectivity of maps but often do not see the very process of mapping as political Are the power and purpose of maps inherently political Maps and Politics addresses this important question and seeks to emphasize that the apparent objectivity of the map making and map using process cannot be divorced from aspects of the politics of representation Maps have played and continue to play a major role in both international and domestic politics They show how visual geographical representations can be made to reflect and advance political agendas in powerful ways The major developments in this field over the last century are responses both to cartographic progression and to a greater emphasis on graphic imagery in societies affected by politicization democratization and consumer and cultural shifts Jeremy Black asks whether bias free cartography is possible and demonstrates that maps are not straightforward visual texts but contain political and politicizing subtexts that need to be read with care

Is Every Typeface a Revival? BA Visual Communication ZHdK,2025-05-12 This publication was initiated during a Type Design brief at Zurich University of the Arts Students were tasked to select an typeface published before 1999 to which they had a strong emotional connection either positive or negative Parallel to articulating personal emotions students also collected information about the designer type foundry historical context and technology of production that led to the creation of the typeface Then they proposed a contemporary redesign or revival The design methodology was flexible allowing for a range of approaches from a classic revival in which the designers used their skills to digitize a typeface that was unavailable or available in poor quality only to a different design interpretation of the typeface It was also possible to use the historical typeface as a mere formal or conceptual inspiration for a new creation In different ways then the students investigated the definition role and limitation of a revival typeface today Their research and design processes are reflected in the texts which the students present in this publication along with specimen pages for their typeface The texts grew out of a two weeks writing class at Zurich University of the Arts called Designers as Writers Considering a broad range of writing practices pursued by designers long before and also while academic thesis writing took hold at art schools from Jan Tschichold Anna Simons and Hildegard Korgner to Adrian Frutiger and Otl Aicher from Hans Rudolf Lutz and Fiona Ross to Zuzana Licko Dexter Sinister Alphabettes and more the students familiarized themselves with various combinations of four basic approaches to writing autobiographical programmatic historiographical and theoretical These approaches informed daily writing exercises and staged impromptu readings in the evening and eventually they also informed to various degrees the texts about the typefaces

The West Beyond the West Jean Barman, 2017-06-22 British Columbia is regularly described in superlatives both positive and negative most spectacular scenery strangest politics greatest environmental sensitivity richest Aboriginal cultures most aggressive resource exploitation closest ties to Asia Jean Barman's The West beyond the West presents the history of the province in all its diversity and apparent contradictions This critically acclaimed work is the premiere book on British Columbian history with a narrative beginning at the point of contact between Native peoples and Europeans and continuing into the twenty first century Barman tells the story by focusing not only on the history made by leaders in government but also on the roles of women immigrants and Aboriginal peoples in the development of the province She incorporates new perspectives and expands discussions on important topics such as the province's relationship to Canada as a nation its involvement in the two world wars the perspectives of non mainstream British Columbians and its participation in recreation and sports including Olympics First published in 1991 and revised in 1996 this third edition of The West beyond the West has been supplemented by statistical tables incorporating the 2001 census two more extensive illustration sections portraying British Columbia's history in images and other new material bringing the book up to date Barman's deft scholarship is readily apparent and the book demands to be on the shelf of anyone with an interest in British Columbian or Canadian history
