

Using DNA to Identify Human Remains

Problem

How can pedigrees help scientists identify human remains?

Introduction

DNA has helped solve countless crimes and some intriguing mysteries—including the fate of the Romanovs. For 300 years the Romanov family ruled Russia. The last Romanov ruler was Tsar Nicholas II. His wife, Tsarina Alexandra, was descended from Queen Victoria of England, as shown in Figure 1.

In 1917, revolution swept through Russia. The royal family was captured and held prisoner until they were killed on July 16, 1918. The official report said that all the bodies were burned and then buried in a single grave. However, some witnesses said that one or two of the children were not buried with the others, and for many years there were rumors that Anastasia had survived.

The new government did not allow any research into the fate of the Romanovs. The house in which they were killed was destroyed, and the burial site was kept secret. In 1991, after the breakup of the Soviet Union, scientists were at last allowed to examine the burial site and remove the bones.

In this lab, you will investigate how the scientists classified the skeletons that they found. You will also figure out how pedigrees helped the scientists find living relatives whose DNA could be compared with DNA extracted from the bones.
