Student Exploration: Refraction

Learning Goals: Explain the relationship between the angle of incidence, angle of refraction, and the index of refraction. Describe how light behaves when it passes from one medium to another.

Prerequisite Knowledge: Students should understand the concept of light waves and how they travel through different media.

1. What would happen if light waves traveled through a medium that was denser than the one they were currently in? They would bend.

2. How does the density of the medium affect the speed of light waves? Light waves travel faster in less dense media and slower in more dense media.

Student Exploration: Light waves travel through different media at different speeds. The speed of light is fastest in a vacuum and slowest in a medium with a high index of refraction. When light waves travel from one medium to another, they change direction. This is called refraction. The amount of refraction depends on the index of refraction of the two media.

Student Exploration: The amount of refraction depends on the index of refraction of the two media.

3. What happens to the speed of light when it travels from a medium with a high index of refraction to a medium with a low index of refraction?

It increases.

4. What happens to the direction of the light wave when it travels from a medium with a high index of refraction to a medium with a low index of refraction?

The light wave bends away from the normal.

5. What happens to the speed of light when it travels from a medium with a low index of refraction to a medium with a high index of refraction? It decreases.
