UNIVERSITY'S AWARDS CEREMONIES

SCHOOL OF HUMANITIES AND SOCIAL SCIENCES

MONDAY 19 OCTOBER 2009

OLD ROYAL NAVAL COLLEGE CHAPEL, GREENWICH

This year the University is holding Awards Ceremonies for the above School on Monday 19 October. The Ceremonies will be held at the Greenwich University Campus, in the Old Royal Naval College Chapel, Greenwich.

All students who have already completed their studies or could complete their studies by 30 September 2009 will be entitled to attend an October ceremony.

Before completing the invitation reply form please read the information brochure carefully which is available on our website www.greenvich.ac.uk/awards and, to avoid the disappointment of not being able to attend a ceremony, you must respond by the deadline of 18 September 2009. We are unable to accept entries after the closing date. Please complete Sections A, B, C, D and, if applicable, E of the reply form and return it to the address given on the form.

It will not be possible for you to choose the time of your Ceremony, exact details of your individual Ceremony and the number of guest tickets allocated to you will be sent to the email address given on your reply form. This confirmation email will be sent in October.

You may apply for a maximum of three guest tickets and we hope to issue all tickets as requested. However due to the capacity of the venue we are unable to guarantee more than two guest tickets per student and if necessary reserve the right to return unsuccessful applications. If any extra tickets become available you will be informed of the procedure for applying for these in the confirmation email.

We hope that the brochure and our website will provide all the information you require to make your Ceremony a successful and memorable occasion but if you require additional information, please do not hesitate to contact the Awards Ceremony Helpline on 0208 331 8772.

Department of State,1973 Ralph Ellison and Kenneth Burke at the Roots of the Racial Divide Bryan Crable,2012 Ralph Ellison and Kenneth Burke focuses on the little known but important friendship between two canonical American writers The story of this fifty year friendship however is more than literary biography Bryan Crable argues that the Burke Ellison relationship can be interpreted as a microcosm of the American racial divide Through examination of published writings and unpublished correspondence he reconstructs the dialogue between Burke and Ellison about race that shaped some of their most important works including Burke's A Rhetoric of Motives and Ellison's Invisible Man In addition the book connects this dialogue to changes in American discourse about race Crable shows that these two men were deeply connected intellectually and personally but the social division between white and black Americans produced hesitation embarrassment mystery and estrangement where Ellison and Burke might otherwise have found unity By using Ellison's nonfiction and Burke's rhetorical theory to articulate a new vocabulary of race the author concludes not with a simplistic healing of the divide but with a challenge to embrace the responsibility inherent to our social order American Literatures Initiative The Writing Triangle Graham Foster,2010 This bold book calls for a complete makeover of staid classroom writing processes illustrating effective ways teachers can guide their students to become inspired and turn ordinary writing into something extraordinary Scouting , Published by the Boy Scouts of America for all BSA registered adult volunteers and professionals Scouting magazine offers editorial content that is a mixture of information instruction and inspiration designed to strengthen readers abilities to better perform their leadership roles in Scouting and also to assist them as parents in strengthening families

Realms of Ritual Peter Arnade,2018-10-18 While earlier historians have seen the elaborate public rituals of the Burgundian dukes as stagnant forms held over from the chivalric world of the High Middle Ages Peter Arnade argues that they were a vital theater of power through which the ducal court and the urban centers constantly renegotiated their relationship This book is the first to apply the combined insights of social political and cultural history to an important but little explored area of medieval and early modern Europe the Burgundian Netherlands Realms of Ritual traces the role of ritual in encounters between the dukes of Burgundy later the Habsburg princes and the townspeople of Ghent the most important city in the county of Flanders Arnade analyzes city state ceremonies through which Ghent s aldermen patricians guildsmen and the city s military and drama confraternities confronted local power and the growth of the Burgundian state In the first serious reappraisal of Johan Huizinga s classic work The Waning of the Middle Ages Arnade confirms Huizinga s vision of a Low Country society rich in public symbols yet reveals the city state conflict within which such ritual thrived He offers a dramatically new perspective on the Northern Renaissance as well as a historical anthropological model for the study of urban state relations
