Dear Mr. Welch,

The American Enterprise Institute is proud to support our students and honor the hard work they do. We invite you to support your local community by making a donation. We depend on the generosity of the surrounding community to provide the best opportunities for our children in light of drastic cuts to education budgets.

All donations are tax-deductible to the extent allowed by law. American Enterprise Institute is exempt from federal taxes under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code as a member of Parent Booster USA's (PBUSA) group exemption #5271.

In accordance with the rules and regulations of the Internal Revenue Service (IRS), donors are advised to verify an organization's 501(c)(3) tax-exempt status. Copies of our current PBUSA membership certificate, PBUSA's IRS Group Exemption Letter, and current IRS Affirmation Letter are available upon request.

Only with your help can we continue to provide the level of support our students need and deserve. Thank you for considering a donation to this very worthy cause. Please contact me via +1 (123) 444-5555 or katherine.randall@email.com if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Katherine Randall

Gender and Rhetorical Space in American Life, 1866-1910 Nan Johnson, 2002 Nan Johnson demonstrates that after the Civil War nonacademic or parlor traditions of rhetorical performance helped to sustain the icon of the white middle class woman as queen of her domestic sphere by promoting a code of rhetorical behavior for women that required the performance of conventional femininity

Through a lucid examination of the boundaries of that gendered rhetorical space and the debate about who should occupy that space Johnson explores the codes governing and challenging the American woman's proper rhetorical sphere in the postbellum years. While men were learning to preach practice law and set political policies women were reading elocution manuals letter writing handbooks and other conduct literature. These texts reinforced the conservative message that women's words mattered but mattered mostly in the home. Postbellum pedagogical materials were designed to educate Americans in rhetorical skills but they also persistently directed the American woman to the domestic sphere as her proper rhetorical space. Even though these materials appeared to urge the white middle class women to become effective speakers and writers convention dictated that a woman's place was at the hearthside where her rhetorical talents were to be used in counseling and instructing as a mother and wife. Aided by twenty-one illustrations Johnson has meticulously compiled materials from historical texts no longer readily available to the general public and in so doing has illuminated this intersection of rhetoric and feminism in the nineteenth century. The rhetorical pedagogies designed for a postbellum popular audience represent the cultural sites where a rethinking of women's roles becomes open controversy about how to value their words. Johnson argues this era of uneasiness about shifting gender roles and the icon of the quiet woman must be considered as evidence of the need for a more complete revaluing of women's space in historical discourse.
