

Thesis Statements

A thesis statement is the main idea or argument in a paper. Thesis statements provide writers with a focus for their paper, and they provide readers with a sense of direction.

While the structure of thesis statements can vary widely, the “although/I will argue/because” structure is a helpful starting point until you feel more comfortable with this process!

Although____(opposing argument)____, I will argue____(your argument)____, because____(your reasoning)____.

Example:

Although some students believe that they are good writers and do not need any assistance from the Writing Center, I will argue that the Writing Center can provide a useful service to writers of any stage because having someone to bounce ideas off of can improve the overall quality of your paper.

Ask yourself these questions while crafting a thesis:

- Does your thesis answer a question, propose a solution to a problem, or take a position in a debate?
- Is the thesis complex enough to develop throughout an entire essay?
- Is your thesis obvious? If you cannot come up with arguments that oppose your argument, consider revising the thesis.
- Can you support your thesis with evidence?
- Is my thesis interesting? Will it catch my audience's attention?

Tips for supporting a thesis statement:

- Write your thesis first It is perfectly okay to free-write during the brainstorming stage of writing without a thesis statement, but it is very helpful to have a thesis while working on the first draft of a paper!
- Outline Before you begin writing your first draft, develop an outline that supports your thesis statement.
- Be flexible When you develop your thesis statement initially, try to adopt the mindset that it is a “working thesis.” As you begin to write, it is likely that you will either take away or add support to your argument. When you have completed your first draft, go back to your thesis statement and make any necessary adjustments.
- Reverse Outlining One of the best ways to make sure you fully developed your thesis statement is to make a reverse outline when you finish your first draft.
  - ◆ Copy your thesis statement, topic sentences, and any major points you make in each paragraph (no more than a sentence each) and paste them into a new document.
  - ◆ Read through the sentences you pulled from your draft in order to determine whether or not you followed your thesis throughout the paper.

Writing First with Readings Laurie G. Kirsznier, Stephen R. Mandell, 2011-12-28 Best selling authors and veteran college writing instructors Laurie Kirsznier and Stephen Mandell believe that students learn to write best when they use their own writing as a starting point In Writing First with Readings Practice in Context designed for the paragraph to essay course Kirsznier and Mandell take seriously the ideas and expressive abilities of developmental students as well as their need to learn the rules of writing and grammar Visual writing prompts that open every chapter get students writing immediately By moving frequently between their own writing writing models and instruction and workbook style mastery exercises students get constant reinforcement of the skills they are learning Thoughtful chapters on college success research and critical reading along with high interest essays round out the text making it the perfect introduction to college writing Read the preface      Words that Count: A Guide to Writing Analytical Essays about Fiction Kate Sheckler, 2019-01-01 Language is complex Written or spoken the complexity of language makes the medium the versatile tool we need but also creates the potential for a wide variety of misunderstandings and mistakes Whether we are attempting to understand a piece of fiction or writing a text to make our thoughts comprehensible to others the complexity of language is both necessary and fraught That said the inevitable pitfalls don't mean we need to sacrifice precision or accuracy This guide is a step by step process that offers hands on methods for accurate analysis and precise essay construction Chapter one deals with a variety of methods by which to approach stories and novels such that your analysis is structured on carefully constructed logical progression founded on the primary text rather than on hunches and guesswork and chapter two offers infrastructures and scaffolding on which any essay can be structured The structures included in chapter two are not a template and thus do not limit style or content rather they are based on a series of tasks that must be completed for an argument to be convincing As such the tasks offer a kind of map through the process of essay writing that always indicates your next step Contrary to accepted mythologies about analyzing fiction and writing essays neither is a guessing game and this text can help you remove the guesswork from your own process      Patterns for College Writing Laurie G.
