Hunter, Gregory Sanders, 2021-04-15 Researching and manufacturing fighters ships and tanks are only part of the picture for defense contracts Contracting for services accounts for over 41 percent of DoD contract obligations in 2018 Services include maintaining equipment moving people and things creating software providing server space and construction Service contracting is challenging as services can be difficult to define and measure But services are increasingly central to the U S economy The Department of Defense seeks to attract new firms that will increase its speed and agility many of these firms are service providers e g data analytics or cloud computing CSIS looked at a million contracts to evaluate how three factors influence performance 1 service complexity 2 contract management capacity 3 vendor s history working with a DoD contracting office The existing data fails to explain large differences in contract office performance More DoD transparency about contracting office capacity could help make a case for further investments The report also found that when vendors and contracting offices have a longer history they tend to have better results That means DoD needs to think not only about recruiting new partners but also about helping them succeed      Service Contract Act United States, 1998      Federal Register , 2013      Comparative Succession Law Kenneth G C Reid, Marius J de Waal, Reinhard Zimmermann, 2020-10-09 This third volume in a series on Comparative Succession Law concerns the entitlement of family members to override the provisions of a deceased person s will to obtain money or assets or more money or assets from the person s estate Some countries notably those in the civil law tradition such as France or Germany confer a pre ordained share of the deceased s estate or of its value on certain members of the deceased s family and especially on the deceased's children and spouse. Other countries notably those in the common law tradition such as England, Canada, or Australia leave the matter to the discretion of the court, the amount awarded depending primarily on financial need. Whichever form it takes, mandatory family provision is both a protection against disinheritance and also therefore a restriction on testamentary freedom. The volume focuses on Europe and on countries influenced by the European experience. In addition to detailed treatment of the law in Austria, England and Wales, France, Germany, Hungary, Italy, the Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Scotland, and Spain, the book also has chapters on Australia and New Zealand, South Africa, the United States, Canada, the countries of Latin America, and the People's Republic of China. Some other countries are covered more briefly, and there is a separate chapter on Islamic law. The book opens with accounts of Roman law and of the law in medieval and early modern Europe, and it concludes with a comparative assessment of the law as it is today in the countries and legal traditions surveyed in this volume.

The FORESIGHT Project, a business benchmarking process for forensic service providers, was created in 2008 to collect and report data while offering improvement to processes through analysis, comparisons, and best practice evaluations.
