not only highly useful but also intellectually coherent and based on robust transferable principles of learning and teaching. All educators in online environments and in brick and mortar schools will find this an invaluable resource.

From the Foreword by Grant Wiggins We now know we can get increased participation with online tools to make thinking more visible and switch the traditional delivery of instruction to personalize learning. While it is inevitable that online learning will become an important skill for everyone, the ideas, concepts, strategies, design elements, and tools in the book by Thormann and Zimmerman can also be applied to blended learning.

Alan November, Senior Partner and Founder, November Learning The authors of this book have created an excellent resource for anyone interested in becoming an online instructor or improving his or her skills in online teaching. The authors share a wealth of step by step activities, examples of assignments and teaching strategies that will guide both novice and experienced teachers as they expand their skills into the online realm. Even as a veteran online instructor, the book provided me with new ideas to try in my next online class.

Sam Gladstein, Coordinator, Edmonds eLearning Program at Edmonds School District, WA Cheers to Thormann and Zimmerman for providing a must read for online teaching. This clear and practical guide takes the instructor from design to implementation of online courses. The authors remove the anxiety about online teaching for those thinking about on screen instruction and provide new thinking and examples for those already immersed in it. It is a great guide for those entering the field and a superb resource for those actively engaged in it.

Anthony J. Bent, Chairman, Global Studies 21st Century Skills Committee of the Massachusetts Association of School Superintendents Book Features The building blocks necessary to create a successful online course. The know how of long time online instructors. Models for Skype conferencing with groups of students. Templates for course building including sample assignments, activities, assessments, and emails. Detailed treatment of diversity in the online environment.

Joan Thormann is professor in the division of Technology in Education at Lesley University, Cambridge, Massachusetts. She edits a column on technology and special needs for Learning and Leading with Technology.

Isa Kaftal Zimmerman is the principal of IKZ Advisors in Boston, Massachusetts, an educational consulting firm serving educators and stakeholders in the Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics (STEM) fields.

Promoting Active Learning through the Flipped Classroom Model Keengwe, Jared, 2014-01-31. Paths to Learning Barbara F. Tobolowsky, 2014-09-17. Higher education institutions are more diverse than ever before as are the students they serve. Because of this great diversity, there is no silver bullet, one approach that will work for teaching all students in all circumstances. This book offers a succinct description of several pedagogical paths available to faculty that can actively engage all students. In addition to providing the most recent information on learning and assessment, individual chapters tackle different approaches including critical pedagogy, contemplative pedagogy, strengths based teaching, and cooperative collaborative learning While the discussion is grounded in theory authors present examples of applying these approaches in physical and virtual learning environments Paths to Learning is a valuable overview of engaging pedagogies for educators seeking to sharpen their teaching skills which in turn will help students become more confident and successful learners
