Decolonizing Interreligious Education Shannon Frediani, 2022-10-28 Decolonizing Interreligious Education explores multiple injustices focusing on the lived experience unaddressed grief and acts of resistance and resilience of populations most impacted by coloniality and white supremacy It lifts up the voices of those speaking from embodied experience of suffering multiple oppressions based on negative constructs of race religion skin color nationality etc Engaging ideological critique construction of knowledge beyond dominant lenses and acts of resistance are presented from the perspective of those most impacted by systemic injustice It challenges interreligious education to frame encounters where the impact of intergeneration trauma and the realities of power differentials are recognized and the contributions of all voices are truly integrated It challenges the fields of religious and interreligious education to imagine a broadened view that includes recognition of the role played by religion in harm done and to take a leadership role in engaging processes of Theology after Colonization Tim Hartman, 2019-11-30 Tim Hartman's Theology after Colonization uses a comparative approach to examine two theologians one from Europe and one from Africa to gain insight into our contemporary theological situation Hartman examines how the loss of cultural hegemony through rising pluralism and secularization has undermined the interconnection of the Christian faith with political power and how globalization undermined the expansive and expanding mindset of colonialization Hartman engages Swiss German theologian Karl Barth 1886 1968 whose work responded to the challenges of Christendom and the increasing secularization of Europe by articulating an early post Christendom theology based on God's self revelation in Jesus Christ not on official institutional structures including the church or societal consensus In a similar way Ghanaian theologian Kwame Bediako 1945 2008 offered a post colonial theology He wrote from the perspective of the global South while the Christian faith was growing exponentially following the departure of Western missionaries from Africa For Bediako the infinite translatability of the gospel of Jesus Christ leads to the renewal of Christianity as a non Western religion not a product of colonialization Many Western theologies find themselves unable to respond to increasing secularization and intensifying globalization because they are based on the very assumptions of uniformity and parochialism sometimes called orthodoxy that are being challenged Hartman claims Bediako and Barth can serve as helpful guides for contemporary theological reflection as the consensus surrounding this theological complex disintegrates further Collectively their work points the way toward contemporary theological reflection that is Christological contextual cultural constructive and collaborative As one of the first books to examine the work of Bediako this study will interest students and scholars of Christian theology African studies and postcolonial studies

Religion and Space Lily Kong, Orlando Woods, 2016-02-11 This is the first study to bring space into conversation with religious competition conflict and violence in the contemporary world Lily Kong and Orlando Woods argue that because space is both a medium and an outcome of religious activity it is integral to understanding processes of religious competition conflict and violence The book explores how religious groups make claims to both religious and secular spaces and examines how such claims are managed negotiated and contested by the state and by other secular and religious agencies It also examines how globalisation has given rise to new forms of religious competition and how religious groups strengthen themselves through the development of social resilience as well as contribute to resilient societies Throughout the book case studies from around the world are used to examine how religious competition and conflict intersect with space The case studies include topical issues such as competing claims to the Temple Mount Haram el Sharif in Jerusalem opposition to the Ground Zero mosque in New York City and the regulation of religious conversion in India and Sri Lanka By helping readers develop new perspectives on how religion works in and through space Religion and Space Competition Conflict and Violence in the Contemporary World is an innovative contribution to the study of religion

Burning Center, Porous Borders Eleazar S. Fernandez, 2011-10-17 Burning Center Porous Borders articulates what the church is and is called to be about in the world a world now globalized to the point that the local is lived globally and the global is lived locally The church must respond creatively and prophetically to the challenges economic disparity war and terrorism diaspora ecological threat health crisis religious diversity and so on posed by our highly globalized world It can do so only if the church s spiritual center burns mightily Conversely it can burn mightily in the spirit of Christ only if its borders are porous and allows the fresh air spirit of change to blow in and out While there is much rhetoric about change the most common response to change is to continue doing business as usual This is particularly the case in the face of perceived global threats In spite of the hoopla and euphoria of the global village walls of division and exclusion are rising hearts are constricting and moral imagination shrinking In response to this context Burning Center Porous Borders proposes alternative ways or images of being a church burning center and porous borders wall buster and bridge builder translocal glocal mending healer radical hospitality community of the earth spirit household of life abundant dialogians of life and community of hope In Burning Center Porous Borders congregational vitality and progressive praxis kiss and embrace Ethnic and Religious Diversity in Myanmar Perry Schmidt-Leukel,Hans-Peter Grosshans,Madlen Krueger,2021-12-02 One of the most comprehensive volumes on Myanmar s identity politics to date this book discusses the entanglement of ethnic and religious identities in Myanmar and the challenges presented by its extensive ethnic religious diversity Religious and ethnic conjunctions are treated from historical political religious and ethnic minority perspectives through both case studies and overview chapters The book addresses the thorny issue of Buddhist supremacy Burmese nationalism and ethnic religious hierarchy along with reflections on Buddhist Christian and Muslim communities Bringing together international scholars and Burmese scholars this book combines the perspectives of academic observers with those of political activists and religious leaders from different faiths Through the breadth of its disciplinary approach its focus on identity issues and its inclusion of insider and outsider perspectives this book provides new insights into the complex religious situation of Myanmar 2000 Years and Beyond David Archard,Trevor A. Hart,Nigel Rapport,Paul Gifford,2003-09-02 2000 Years and Beyond brings together some of the most eminent thinkers of our time specialists in philosophy theology anthropology and cultural theory In a horizon scanning work they look backwards and forwards to explore what links us to the matrix of the Judaeo Christian tradition from which Western cultural identity has evolved Their plural reflections raise searching questions about how we move from past to future and about who we are What do the catastrophes of the twentieth century signify for hopes of progress Can post Enlightenment humanism and its notion of human nature survive without faith If the numinous magic global capitalism is our own giant shadow cast abroad does that shadow offer hope enough of a communal future Has the modern secularized West now outgrown its originating faith matrix Often controversial and sometimes visionary these seven new essays ask how do we tell and rewrite the story of the Common Era Introduced by Paul Gifford and discussed in a lively dialogic conclusion they add their distinctive voices to a debate of profound and urgent topicality
