Tcu Tanzania Guide For Certificate Programmes:

The Evolving Regulatory Context for Private Education in Emerging Economies Svava Bjarnason, Harry Anthony Patrinos, Jee-Peng Tan, 2008-12-17 Governments around the world and particularly those in developing countries face significant educational challenges. Despite progress in raising education enrollments at the basic education level, much remains to be done. Today about 77 million children in developing countries are not in school, particularly in Sub-Saharan Africa and South Asia. Higher education participation rates remain low in many developing countries, and public higher education institutions (HEIs) struggle to absorb growing numbers of secondary school graduates. Public universities face ongoing challenges, including a lack of teaching and research resources and the loss of qualified staff to developed countries. The inability of public sector educational institutions, particularly in developing countries, to absorb growing numbers of students at all levels of education has seen the emergence of private schools and HEIs. This paper briefly examines the international experience concerning the regulation of private education at the school and higher education level. It begins with an overview of the private school and higher education sectors and a short discussion of the potential benefits of increased private participation in education. The remainder of the paper focuses on the following questions and sets out propositions for governments to consider.

Guide to Higher Education in Africa, 4th Edition International Association of Universities, 2007 The fourth edition of The Guide to Higher Education in Africa contains reliable and up-to-the-minute information on higher education throughout Africa, over 900 institutions in 47 countries, plus details of national education systems and agencies in a single reference source.

Routledge Handbook of African Social Work Education Susan Levy, Uzoma Odera Okoye, Pius T. Tanga, Richard Ingram, 2024-06-06 This timely Routledge Handbook creates a much-needed space to explore what makes social work uniquely African, as well as shaping, informing, and influencing a new culturally relevant era of social work. The specific focus on social work education offers approaches to transition away from the hegemony of Western literature, knowledge, and practice models underpinning African social work education. The authors identify what is relevant and meaningful to inform, influence, and reconceptualise culturally relevant social work curriculum. Covering Botswana, Cameroon, Ethiopia, Ghana, Guinea, Kenya, Malawi, Nigeria, South Africa, Tanzania, Uganda, Zambia, and Zimbabwe, the Handbook comprises both empirical and conceptual chapters, multiple approaches, case studies, and key debates on social work education. It is structured in four parts: Approaches to Indigenising, Decolonising, and Developing Culturally Relevant Social Work Education; Social Work Education Evolution across Contexts; Embedding Field Practicum into Social Work Education; Knowledge Exchange between the Global South and Global North. The range of indigenous local knowledge that the Handbook presents is crucial to social work evolving and facilitating reciprocal learning and knowledge exchange between the Global South and Global North. Whilst the context of the Handbook is Africa, the topics covered are relevant to a global audience engaged in social justice work across social work, social welfare, and social development.
