

Easy College Essay Guide

Brainstorm Your Thesis

Your professor may give you theses to choose from. Or, you may have to come up with your own thesis. Let's make sure you understand "both sides" of the argument so that you can be persuasive and thorough.

Find Evidence in the Text

Your primary text will typically be whatever book you are reading or media you are consuming (TV, movies, song lyrics). If you are confused about your "primary text" focus, ask your professor to clarify.

Find Evidence in Secondary Text

Your professor will expect you to use online academic journal articles to support your argument. These may come from sources like JSTOR or Google Scholar. Let's find them and weave them into your essay.

Format the Outline & Fill in the Blanks

Once you have your notes prepared, I will provide a simple essay outline that lets you "fill in the blank" to flesh out your argument and complete your assignment.

Changing the Way We Teach Sally Barr Ebest, 2005 Changing the Way We Teach Writing and Resistance in the Training of Teaching Assistants draws on eighteen case studies to illustrate the critical role writing plays in overcoming graduate student resistance to instruction facilitating change and developing professional identity Sally Barr Ebest argues that teaching assistants in English must be actively engaged in the theory and practice underlying composition pedagogy in order to better understand how to alter the way they teach and why such change is necessary In illustrating the potential for change when the paradigm shift in composition is applied to graduate education Ebest considers recent discussions of composition pedagogy post-secondary teaching theories cognitive social cognitive and educational psychology and issues of gender voice and writing Stemming from research conducted over a five-year period this volume explores how a cross-section of teaching assistants responded to pedagogy as students and how their acceptance of pedagogy affected their performance as instructors Investigating reasons behind manifestations of resistance and necessary elements for overcoming it Ebest finds that engagement in composition strategies reflective writing journaling drafting and active learning and restoration of feelings of self-efficacy are the primary factors that facilitate change Concerned with gender as it relates to personal construct Changing the Way We Teach traces the influence of familial expectations and the effects of literacy experiences on students and draws correlations between feminist and composition pedagogy Ebest asserts that the phenomena contributing to the development of a strong unified voice in women self knowledge empathy positive role models and mentors should be essential elements of a constructivist graduate curriculum To understand composition pedagogy and to convince students of its values Ebest holds that educators must embrace it themselves and trace the effects through active research By providing graduate students with pedagogical sites for research and reflection faculty enable them to express their anger or fear study its sources and quite often write their way to a new understanding
