Large-Scale Education Research Crystal Lewis,2024-07-09 Research data management is becoming more complicated Researchers are collecting more data using more complex technologies all the while increasing the visibility of our work with the push for data sharing and open science practices Ad hoc data management practices may have worked for us in the past but now others need to understand our processes as well requiring researchers to be more thoughtful in planning their data management routines This book is for anyone involved in a research study involving original data collection While the book focuses on quantitative data typically collected from human participants many of the practices covered can apply to other types of data as well. The book contains foundational context instructions and practical examples to help researchers in the field of education begin to understand how to create data management workflows for large scale typically federally funded research studies. The book starts by describing the research life cycle and how data management fits within this larger picture. The remaining chapters are then organized by each phase of the life cycle with examples of best practices provided for each phase. Finally, considerations on whether the reader should implement and how to integrate those practices into a workflow are discussed. Key Features: Provides a holistic approach to the research life cycle showing how project management and data management processes work in parallel and collaboratively. Can be read in its entirety or referenced as needed throughout the life cycle. Includes relatable examples specific to education research. Includes a discussion on how to organize and document data in preparation for data sharing requirements. Contains links to example documents as well as templates to help readers implement practices.

Proceedings of the 2nd UPY International Conference on Education and Social Science (UPINCESS 2023) Ari Kusuma Wardana, 2023-12-31. This is an open access book. Technology has had a huge impact on education and social dynamics around the world. Since the introduction of information and communication technologies (ICTs) such as the internet, smartphones, and social media, much has changed in the way we learn and interact with others. In education, technology has enabled students and teachers to access more diverse and engaging educational resources. With internet access, students and teachers can access educational resources from all over the world and learn about various topics and disciplines. In addition, technology also enables distance learning, which allows students and teachers to connect from different locations. However, there are also negative impacts of using technology in education. For example, excessive use of social media and the internet can cause concentration disorders and addiction in students. In addition, too much reliance on technology can also reduce students' ability to think critically and solve problems independently. In social dynamics, technology has allowed us to connect with people from all over the world and paved the way for greater collaboration and cultural exchange. However, technology has also brought negative impacts on social dynamics, such as the spread of fake news or hoaxes, cyberbullying, and social media addiction. In this regard, technology can be a very useful tool if used wisely and with proper understanding of its impact. Therefore, to support this, Universitas PGRI Yogyakarta was holding an international conference and Call for Papers: The 2nd UPY International Conference on Education and Social Science (UPINCESS). The Impact of Technology on Education and Social Dynamics, on September 27, 2023. The conference aims to discuss in depth about the impact of technology on education and social dynamics, as well as finding appropriate solutions and strategies to minimize its negative impact and maximize its benefits. Experts, researchers, and practitioners in the field of education and technology from around the world can share their knowledge and experience in this conference and can encourage collaboration and innovation in this field.
