

Biography of Anne Frank

Anne Frank was born in Frankfurt, Germany in 1929. Her father, Otto, was a businessman in Germany and her mother, Edith, was a housewife. Anne had an older sister, Margot.

Anne and her family were Jewish. When Anne was young, Adolph Hitler became the leader of Germany. He issued many laws limiting the rights of Jews in Germany. Anne's father was afraid for his family's safety and moved them to Amsterdam in 1933. In 1940, Hitler and his Nazi party took over the Netherlands, and the laws that the Frank family had fled from seven years earlier were now in place in their new home. Jewish people were not allowed to ride buses or own businesses, and Jewish children had to attend separate schools. Soon after, the Nazis began sending Jewish families to concentration camps.

When Anne's sister received notice that she would be sent to a camp, the Frank family decided to hide. In July 1942 they moved into a small space above the warehouse where Otto had worked. They were joined later by another family, making conditions even more cramped. Anne called the space the "Secret Annex". During the day, they had to keep the lights off and stay silent so that they would not be found. They were not allowed to speak, listen to the radio or even flush the toilet until evening, when the employees in the warehouse below had left for the day. Anne passed the time by writing in a diary.

In 1944, everyone living in the Annex was found and arrested. Anne and her family were sent to Westerbork camp in the Netherlands, and shortly after to Auschwitz. Anne died there along with her mother and sister just weeks before the liberation of the camps. Her father was the only member of the family who survived.

When Mr. Frank returned to Amsterdam, his friends gave him Anne's diary. Mr. Frank published her diary in 1947 under the title The Diary of a Young Girl. It remains an important work of nonfiction, giving a poignant and moving window into the horrors of World War II.

Q&A

Answer the questions below on a separate sheet of paper.

Why do you think Mr. Frank chose to publish Anne's diary after the war?

The residents in the Annex had to spend almost eight hours a day in darkness and complete silence for over two years. Most of the residents passed the time by studying, reading or taking naps. What would you have done to keep yourself occupied during those hours? How would you have entertained yourself and your family in the evening if you weren't allowed to go outside to get supplies?

Carrigan (Jr), 1999-08-31 Religiously inspired novels inspirational writings and biographical works on people who are models for spiritual growth are among the recommendations found in this reference My Mother's Voice Adrienne Kertzer, 2001-12-11 Named Honor Book of the Year by the Children's Literature Association Winner 2003 Canadian Jewish Book Award for scholarship on a Jewish subject Finalist 2003 Alberta Book Awards Scholarly Book of the Year How do children's books represent the Holocaust How do such books negotiate the tension between the desire to protect children and the commitment to tell children the truth about the world If Holocaust representations in children's books respect the narrative conventions of hope and happy endings how do they differ if at all from popular representations intended for adult audiences And where does innocence lie if the children's fable of Roberto Benigni's Life is Beautiful is marketed for adults and far more troubling survivor memoirs such as Anita Lobel's No Pretty Pictures: A Child of War are marketed for children. How should Holocaust Studies integrate discourse about children's literature into its discussions? In approaching these and other questions, Kertzer uses the lens of children's literature to problematize the ways in which various adult discourses represent the Holocaust and continually challenges the conventional belief that children's literature is the place for easy answers and optimistic lessons.

Now That's Funny Charles O. Jones, 2018-09-28 This book is the story of Chuck Jones as a young man growing up in a small South Dakota town, his education, military service, graduate work, marriage and life as a professor. The Jones family moved frequently, taking advantage of job opportunities and research fellowships. Their longest tenures were at Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania and Madison, Wisconsin. The author provides descriptions of family life to include their several homes. The book displays the vitality of academic life and family growth. It also identifies the importance of pets to a loving atmosphere. One chapter tells the life of the Jones family from the perspective of their pets. The book is mostly about us and how we lived and prospered through the decades.

The Children's Literature Selection Handbook, K-8 Christie Kaaland, 2025-09-18 Offering future school librarians, teachers and working librarians an alternative to lengthier textbooks on children's literature, this engaging book introduces readers to the most important genres and current conversations in the field while leaving them time to read children's literature directly. As school librarians and teacher certification programs become more abridged, students require succinct textbooks that still provide a valuable introduction to the field. Working librarians need reference books that allow them to make good selections for their collections. Students and professionals will appreciate The Children's Literature Selection Handbook K-8 because it offers a needed overview of the field while allowing for plenty of time to read children's literature. Author Christie Kaaland's conversational tone speaks directly to readers and the book offers students a pathway to engage with literature directly and effectively scaffold their learning. Beginning with an introduction to standard literary fiction genres including a discussion of literature trends and children's reading interests and needs, the chapters turn to the most important genres: fiction, biography, folk literature, picture books, informational texts, poetry, and graphic novels. A focus on book series, a deep discussion of graphic novels, the inclusion of global literature, and review sources for selection and information on publishers and the publishing industry set this timely book apart from others in the field. Reader voices add perspective and charm. This compact and engaging book is the perfect companion to the vast wealth of children's literature that future teachers and school librarians will read during their professional preparation and share with children and youth as working librarians.
