Design Theory '88 Sandra L. Newsome, W.R. Spillers, Susan Finger, 2013-03-07 In 1984 Nam Sub who was then the Assistant Director for Engineering at the National Science Foundation NSF created the Design Theory and Methodology Program. Among his goals in creating this program were to develop a science of engineering design and to establish design as an accepted field of engineering research. From 1984 to 1986 this program was directed by Susan Finger. From 1986 to the present Jack Dixon has been the director. The program itself has covered a broad range of disciplines from chemical engineering to architecture and a broad range of research paradigms from psychological experiments to mathematical models. The present volume is based on the second NSF Grantee Workshop on Design Theory and Methodology called Design Theory 88 which was held June 2-5 1988 at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy NY USA. It is however not strictly a proceedings since it includes some material that was not presented at the Workshop and since it omits some papers and discussions that were presented at the Workshop. At the Workshop invited speakers presented overviews of six different research areas based on summaries submitted in advance by the grantees of the Design Theory and Methodology Program. Since most of the speakers were not supported under the NSF program they brought fresh views to it. The other papers in this book were submitted directly to this volume and were not presented at the Workshop.

Mathematical Models for Decision Support Harvey J. Greenberg, Gautam Mitra, Freerk A. Lootsma, Marcel J. Rijckaert, Hans J. Zimmermann, 2012-12-06 It is quite an onerous task to edit the proceedings of a two week long institute with learned contributors from many parts of the world. All the same the editorial team has found the process of refereeing and reviewing the contributions worthwhile and completing the volume has proven to be a satisfying task. In setting up the institute we had considered models and methods taken from a number of different disciplines. As a result the whole institute preparing for it attending it and editing the proceedings proved to be an intense learning experience for us. Here I speak on behalf of the committee and the editorial team. By the time the institute took place the papers were delivered and the delegates exchanged their views the structure of the topics covered and their relative positioning appeared in a different light. In editing the volume I felt compelled to introduce a new structure in grouping the papers The contents of this volume are organised in eight main sections set out below 1 Abstracts 2 Review Paper 3 Models with Multiple Criteria and Single or Multiple Decision Makers 4 Use of Optimisation Models as Decision Support Tools 5 Role of Information Systems in Decision Making Database and Model Management Issues 6 Methods of Artificial Intelligence in Decision Making Intelligent Knowledge Based Systems 7 Representation of Uncertainty in Mathematical Models and Knowledge Based Systems 8 Mathematical Basis for Constructing Models and Model Validation Threats to Mangrove Forests Christopher Makowski, Charles W. Finkl, 2018-04-20 This book focuses on the worldwide threats to mangrove forests and the management solutions currently being used to counteract those hazards Designed for the professional or specialist in marine science coastal zone management biology and related disciplines this work will appeal to those not only working to protect mangrove forests but also the surrounding coastal areas of all types Examples are drawn from many different geographic areas including North and South America India and Southeast Asia Subject areas covered include both human induced and natural impacts to mangroves intended or otherwise as well as the efforts being made by coastal researchers to promote restoration of these coastal fringing forests Resources in Education ,1994
