Catholic Schools and the Interests of the Poor Maria Ugonna Rita Igbo, 2023-10-26 The inspiration behind this book emanated from earlier doctoral research that focused on the preferential option for the poor Subsequent reflections focused more on the idea of religious schools subsidizing fees for poor children The question is How can the schools get the funding to offer free education or subsidize fees for the children How does this reflect on each school's mission integrity These questions have preoccupied the thoughts of the author for a long period The Catholic schools in Nigeria are categorized as private schools and are perceived to be expensive However people who have these views can hardly understand that most Catholic schools in Nigeria do not receive subsidies from the government at all levels in contrast to the schools in countries such as Belgium Germany New Zealand the Netherlands England Scotland and Ireland where Catholic schools receive significant support from public funds The argument for the high fees is that lay teachers have to be well paid to enable them to function effectively and selflessly There is also the need for an efficient supply of quality educational facilities and maintenance of school infrastructure Therefore if Catholic schools are expensive the Church will be failing in its duty to offer educational services to the poor and to those who suffer from deprivation These issues have been carefully analysed and dealt with in this book and some suggestions are proffered that can help the schools to maintain their mission integrity in dealing with the principle of the preferential option for the poor This book beseeches Catholic school board members other Christian denominations and religious organizations non governmental organizations philanthropists individuals and other interested parties to come to the aid of the poor by using education as an instrument Catholic School Journal ,1965

Wade Mahon, 2024-07-15 This book documents an informal system of education that emerged in Ireland between the late 1750s and the end of the century a system that operated largely without funding or direction by church or state In a society as divided as eighteenth century Ireland it is remarkable that such a system could succeed paving the way for the more formal reforms of Irish education that followed in the nineteenth century Based on detailed evidence from newspaper advertisements directories educational prospectuses textbooks and other print documents from the period as well as previously unexamined manuscript resources the author describes this system and how it functioned emphasizing the transnational dimensions of print culture English literature and education reform Resources in Education ,2001-10

Michigan School Moderator ,1885 Changing Teachers, Changing Times Andy Hargreaves, 2001-01-10 The rules of the world are changing It is time for the rules of teaching and teachers work to change with them This is the challenge which

Andy Hargreaves sets out in his book on teachers work and culture in the postmodern world Drawing on his current research with teachers at all levels Hargreaves shows through their own vivid words what teaching is really like how it is already changing and why He argues that the structures and cultures of teaching need to change even more if teachers are not to be trapped by guilt pressed by time and overburdened by decisions imposed upon them Provocative yet practical this book is written for teachers and those who work with teachers and for researchers who want to understand teaching better in the postmodern age School,1928 Journal of Education,1882 Steiger's Educational Directory for 1878 Ernst Steiger,1878 Research in Education,1972 Sessional Papers Great Britain.
