

Looking at the supporting role of the minor characters

E.M. Ashford

(Vivian's mentor and teacher at the university)

- ⇒ In a flashback E.M. Ashford requests that Vivian to do her essay again. Analyse what she means by the effort to be "better".
- ⇒ In this same flashback, E.M. Ashford also criticises Vivian's punctuation. Analyse her great desire to stress the comma.
 - Does Vivian understand her?
 - How and when does this mark Vivian's spiritual transformation later in the play?
- ⇒ Study her visit and consequent story telling of "The Sunday Visitor" at the (almost) conclusion of the play. What purpose does her inclusion in Vivian's final moments and choice of story serve?

Jason Posner

(Vivian's former student who is now a clinical fellow)

- ⇒ Jason takes Vivian's medical history and gives her a gynaecological examination. Analyse how this hospital protocol reinforces the irony in the play and the scientific understandings of life and death.
- ⇒ Partway through Jason's gynaecological examination Jason leaves Vivian suspended in stirrups. How is the physical compared with the intellectual in this scene?
 - In the most intimate of medical examinations, explore how Jason copes. Compare this with Vivian's coping abilities.
 - Can either of them understand meaningful humane conversations at this point in time? Compare to the end of the play.
- ⇒ Jason's insistence of the "Code Blue" to try and revive Vivian at the play's conclusion, despite the fact Vivian is finally at peace is quite chilling. Evaluate his actions and reactions in light of Vivian's instantaneous understanding of Donne's lines, "And death shall be no more: Death, thou shalt die!"

Health Humanities in Postgraduate Medical Education Allan D. Peterkin,Anna Skorzevska,2018-08-24 Most medical schools in the US Canada and UK now incorporate some form of arts and humanities based teaching into their curricula What happens in residency is another story Most postgraduate programs do not continue the thread of such teaching although many residents would like to deepen their understanding of the medical humanities before they move into practice The humanities emphasize the human side of medicine and can provide a counterpoint to the reductionism of evidence based medicine and technological hubris for young doctors as they apply new knowledge and skills in ambiguous real life encounters with patients who are living with complicated health problems Humanities based education can help both sides of the relationship programs are shown to reduce burnout and mental health issues in young physicians and can also help learning practitioners grapple with the most difficult aspects of their craft how does one persuade patients on a course of treatment while respecting informed consent How does one work with families How does one listen to and treat patients exhibiting self harm tendencies Available research may demonstrate the efficacy of such exposures but provide little practical advice or resources for setting up programs across specialty and sub specialty disciplines Health Humanities in Post Graduate Medical Education will fill this gap in knowledge translation for the thousands of residency programs worldwide allowing educators supervisors and residents themselves to create robust and educationally sound workshops seminars study groups lecture series research and arts based projects publications and events School ,1908 The Ohio Teacher ,1915
