2015 Li Yuming, Li Wei, 2021-01-18 China with the world's largest population numerous ethnic groups and vast geographical space is also rich in languages. Since 2006 China's State Language Commission has been publishing annual reports on what is called language life in China. These reports cover language policy and planning initiatives at the national, provincial and local levels, new trends in language use in a variety of social domains and major events concerning languages in mainland China, Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan. Now for the first time these reports are available in English for anyone interested in Chinese language and linguistics. China's language education and social policies as well as everyday language use among the ordinary people in China. The invaluable data contained in these reports provide an essential reference to researchers, professionals, policy makers and China watchers.

Dewey, Education, and the Mediterranean, 2022-10-24

There are few if any other educational philosophers that have left their mark internationally as John Dewey has. Author of 40 books and no less than 700 articles that appeared in over 140 journals, Dewey's work has been translated into at least 35 languages. His landmark Democracy and Education published over a century ago in 1916 is one of the most cited educational texts ever. Dewey has inspired educators and provoked controversies in his day and still does so today. This volume sets out to engage with Dewey's educational thought especially as it relates to its circulation in the countries bordering on the Mediterranean. Authors consider his enduring influence and reflect on the push and pull forces that served to anchor progressivism in its multiple manifestations in the region. The notion of a unidirectional force personified by Dewey that is somehow absorbed by the receiving country is problematised by most if not all chapters in this volume. Rather contributors carefully show how context affects a process marked by active appropriation, re-interpretation, adaptation as well as resistance. Sometimes a vibrant presence that still needs to be reckoned with, at other times a ghostly figure nevertheless serving to sustain democratic aspirations in and through education. Dewey and his message resonate, challenge and demand a response.

Teaching and Teacher Education Rohit Setty, Radhika Iyengar, Matthew A. Witenstein, Erik Jon Byker, Huma Kidwai, 2019-11-07 This edited volume brings together diverse thinkers and practitioners from the field of teaching and teacher education as it pertains to educational development in South Asia. In this volume authors draw from their research practice and field experiences showcasing how teaching and teacher education are currently being carried out, understood, theorized, debated and implemented for the education of children and teachers alike in South Asia. The volume also includes practitioner voices which are often marginalized in academic discourse. This book acts as a key reference text for academics and practitioners interested in the intersection of education and development in the region and in particular what it takes to pull off ambitious teaching and teacher education in South Asia.

presents procedures and research techniques that are based on critical perspectives of Psychology and Education The content is characterized by innovations on the relationship between the researcher and the investigated context and it problematizes different perspectives and approaches to the psychological phenomenon proposing new understandings of the subject the world the social and the field of investigation itself as a permanent dialectical movement The book reports to Marxist based perspectives especially to Vygotsky s ideas and concepts Therefore it assumes the comprehension that in order to understand the phenomenon in its historical dimension it is necessary to put it into motion seeking to access the genesis of the manifestations evidenced at the moment of the investigation That is the historicity that characterizes the process of constitution of the human psyche can only be apprehended in its movement thus what matters is the process and not the product of its development Nevertheless apprehending phenomena in movement is a challenge for researchers interested in human processes within the scope of relationships or practices of professionals and or subjects of various scenarios which leads to the need to problematize the different moments of research and their dimension in the theoretical and practical fields Which methodological techniques or procedures allow the apprehension of the meaning movement produced by the subjects in the investigated scenarios To what extent does dialectical materialism derived from Marxism support the apprehension and analysis of research information of this nature What other theoretical methodological perspectives related to Cultural Historical Psychology offer subsidies to these investigations The theoretical perspectives based on the Social and Cultural analysis focus on the understandings of collective contexts precisely because of the subject view constituted in the inter subjective relations that it undertakes which adds even more complexity to the investigative processes From this perspective both the subject and other participants transform themselves during the investigation such transformation needs to be permanently reflected and included in the research objectives and purposes in order to follow the movement of the meanings in the expressed phenomenon
