It highlights background information and relationships clarifying them with examples and encourages the further development of the language of digital media. In addition to the basics of perception and learning psychology, ergonomics, communication theory, imagery research and aesthetics, the book also considers design navigation and orientation elements. Guidelines and checklists along with the comprehensive design of the book support the transfer of information into practice. Frank Thissen teaches multimedia didactics and information design at the University of Applied Sciences in Stuttgart. For over 10 years he has been developing computer-based training. McGregor, 2002 This book is written primarily as a guide for teachers of English as a second language, drawing upon experiences and research in Uganda, Zambia, Kenya, South Africa and Britain. The work has relevance also for pedagogues and linguists. Chapters are included on using the students' first language, experience, English and communication, encouraging students to co-operate rather than compete, an assessment of the vital primary experience, vocabulary and how to teach it, English for real conversation, improving reading skills and the choice of books, writing grammar and what is meant by knowing the grammar of a language, literature, life and poetry. Interfaces
