The Author & Journalist ,1925 The Unitarian Register ,1924 Religion and Politics in Post-Communist Romania Lavinia Stan, Lucian Turcescu, 2007-10-25 In the post communist era it has become evident that the emerging democracies in Eastern Europe will be determined by many factors only some of them political Throughout the region the Orthodox Roman Catholic and Greek Catholic churches have tried to impose their views on democracy through direct political engagement. Moreover, surveys show that the churches and the army enjoy more popular confidence than elected political bodies such as parliaments. These results reflect widespread disenchantment with a democratization process that has allowed politicians to advance their own agendas rather than work to solve the urgent socio-economic problems these countries face. In this penetrating study, Lavinia Stan and Lucian Turcescu investigate the interaction of religion and politics in one such country, Romania. Facing internal challenges and external competitions from other religions, old and new, the Orthodox Church in Romania has sought to consolidate its position and ensure Romania's version of democracy recognizes its privileged position of national Church, enforcing the Church's stances on issues such as homosexuality and abortion. The post-communist state and political elite in turn rely on the Church for compliance with educational and cultural policies and to quell the insistent demands of the Hungarian minority for autonomy. Stan and Turcescu examine the complex relationship between church and state in this new Romania, providing analysis in key areas: church collaboration with communist authorities; post-communist electoral politics; nationalism and ethno-politics; restitution of Greek Catholic property; religious education and sexual behavior and reproduction. As the first scholars to be given access to confidential materials from the archives of the communist political police, the notorious Securitate, Stan and Turcescu also examine church archives, legislation, news reports, and interviews with politicians and church leaders. This study will move the debate from common analyses of nationalism in isolation to more comprehensive investigations which consider the impact of religious actors on a multitude of other issues relevant to the political and social life of the country.

The Bloomsbury Handbook of Religious Education in the Global South Yonah Hisbon Matemba, Bruce A. Collet, 2022-02-10. The Bloomsbury Handbook of Religious Education in the Global South presents new comparative perspectives on Religious Education (RE) across the Global South. Including 23 chapters written by scholars from the Global North and South, this is the first authoritative reference work on the subject. The handbook is thematically organised into seven sections. The first three sections deal with provision, response to changes in contemporary society and decolonizing RE. The next four sections explore young people and RE perspectives on teachers, RE in higher education, and finally challenges and opportunities for RE. The term Global South is used here primarily to signify the deep economic divide with the Global North, but the concept is also examined in historical, geographical, political, social, and cultural terms, including the indelible influence of religion in all four broadly defined regions. Exploring RE from local, cross-national, as well as regional and sub-regional perspectives, the handbook examines RE from its diverse past, present realities, and envisioned future, revealing not only tensions, contestations, injustices, and inequalities of power, but importantly how inclusive forms of RE can help solve these problems.

Aspects of Education in the Middle East and Africa Colin Brock, Lila Zia Levers, 2007-05-07. The chapters in this volume do not represent the whole of the Middle East and North Africa, as such a collection would have been too large for one volume. Rather, the selection here is intended to present different perspectives on a range of educational issues relevant to a particular focus or country or common to a number of countries in the area There is no overarching theme beyond that which is common to most of the countries in this area such as modernity versus tradition the spread of education effecting sociological changes most pronounced in the rural and tribal areas the changing fortunes and roles of women the aspiration and expectation of youth and the state having become the major player in providing education These are all shared by most of the countries represented here      Saudi Arabia's Troubling Educational Curriculum United States.
