TV Guide ,2002 Social TV Mike Proulx,Stacey Shepatin,2012-01-26 The Internet didn't kill TV. It has become its best friend. Americans are watching more television than ever before and we're engaging online at the same time we're tuning in. Social media has created a new and powerful backchannel fueling the renaissance of live broadcasts. Mobile and tablet devices allow us to watch and experience television whenever and wherever we want. And connected TVs blend web and television content into a unified big screen experience bringing us back into our living rooms. Social TV examines the changing and complex television landscape and helps brands navigate its many emerging and exciting marketing and advertising opportunities. Social TV topics include: Leveraging the second screen to drive synched and deeper brand engagement. Using social ratings analytics tools to find and target lean forward audiences. Aligning brand messaging to content as it travels time shifted across devices. Determining the best strategy to approach marketing via connected TVs. Employing addressable TV advertising to maximize content relevancy. Testing and learning from the most cutting edge emerging TV innovations. The rise of one technology doesn't always mean the end of another. Discover how this convergence has created new marketing opportunities for your brand. , FCC Record United States. Federal Communications Commission,2017 New York Magazine ,1993-02-01 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country. With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea.
