The Global Academic Rankings Game Maria Yudkevich, Philip G. Altbach, Laura E. Rumbley, 2016-03-02 The Global Academic Rankings Game provides a much needed perspective on how countries and universities react to academic rankings Based on a unified case methodology of eleven key countries and academic institutions this comprehensive volume provides expert analysis on this emerging phenomenon at a time when world rankings are becoming increasingly visible and influential on the international stage Each chapter provides an overview of government and national policies as well as an in depth examination of the impact that rankings have played on policy practice and academic life in Australia Chile China Germany Malaysia the Netherlands Poland Russia Turkey the United Kingdom and the United States The Global Academic Rankings Game contributes to the continuing debate about the influence of rankings in higher education and is an invaluable resource for higher education scholars and administrators as they tackle rankings in their own national and institutional Accountability in American Higher Education K. Carey, M. Schneider, 2010-12-20 In Accountability in American Higher Education prominent academics entrepreneurs and journalists assess the obstacles to and potential opportunities for accountability in higher education in America Providing analysis that can be used to engage institutions of higher education in the difficult but necessary conversation of accountability A History of Luton Anne Allsopp, 2018-01-19 In the past Luton was a market town and for many years was also a centre for the brewing industry In the 19th century it became famous for hat making and more recently it has grown into a thriving industrial centre During the Second World War it played an important part in the manufacture of army vehicles and children bound for school had to dodge the Churchill tanks on their way to various theatres of conflict Nowadays Luton Airport is the gateway for all types of traveller and the town is well known for its famous football team Luton has always provided visitors with a warm welcome and many have stayed and made the town their home Local industry offered employment opportunities in the early 20th century and many had cause to be grateful for its relative prosperity during the Great Depression Following the Second World War immigrants from the Indian subcontinent and from the West Indies brought with them colourful new cultures that are celebrated in the annual Carnival This fascinating and illustrated account of Luton's past will inform and delight anyone who lives in the town and inspire those who grew up here Innovative Approaches to Staff Development in Transnational Higher Education Morris, Gareth, Ye, Jinting, 2025-01-09 As globalization reshapes the landscape of higher education the development of faculty and staff becomes essential for institutions to remain competitive and relevant By investing in continuous learning and cross cultural competencies educators can better meet the diverse needs of an international student body and foster inclusive innovative academic environments Strengthening faculty development enhances teaching quality research output and institutional adaptability enriching the educational experience for students This focus not only advances individual career growth but also drives institutional success promoting resilience and long term sustainability in an increasingly interconnected world Innovative Approaches to Staff Development in Transnational Higher Education delves into the complexities and opportunities of faculty development in the dynamic environment of transnational higher education It illustrates the transformative power of education and its ability to adapt and evolve in response to a rapidly globalizing world Covering topics such as AI literacy mentorship and technology training this book is an excellent resource for educational leaders and administrators faculty and staff members researchers scholars policymakers educational planers and more

Language and the Knowledge Economy Josep Soler, Kathrin Kaufhold, 2025-02-28 This volume offers a holistic understanding of the interconnections of language specifically English scholarly publishing and knowledge production and circulation through a sociolinguistic lens in contemporary academia across different European settings for research purposes. The volume is organised around three parts the first part explores individual factors underpinning knowledge production and their role in shaping scholars academic careers the second part critically reflects on the challenges and opportunities for multilingual scholars in the academic landscape examining the inherent tensions in the interactions between English and other languages the final part considers the ways in which academic knowledge is institutionalised at universities private companies and on a national scale and the subsequent impact on knowledge dissemination Taken together the chapters provide a coherent and holistic overview of the affordances and limitations that different social actors experience when participating in such cycles including the different modes of access to resources across geographic contexts and disciplinary traditions. An important contribution of the volume is the multilayered angle that it incorporates into analysing issues of scholarly publishing in today s academia placing language as a social practice at the heart of the structuring processes that condition the creation dissemination and consumption of knowledge in contemporary societies. This book will be of interest to scholars in English for research and publication purposes sociolinguistics language and education and applied linguistics.

Equality and Differentiation in Marketised Higher Education Marion Bowl, Colin McCaig, Jonathan Hughes, 2018-05-24
This edited collection demonstrates how discourses and practices associated with marketisation differentiation and equality are manifested in UK higher education today Uniting leading scholars in higher education and equality in England the contributors and editors expose the contradictions arising from the tension between aims for increased equality and an increasingly marketised higher education As the authors seek to reveal both the intended and unintended consequences of the intensified marketisation of the sector they critically examine the implications of these changes In doing so they reveal the ways in which institutional policy and discourse are involved in masking the contradictions between an educational marketplace and education as a vehicle for advancing equality and social justice This pioneering volume will be of interest and value to students and scholars of higher education in England education policy and the marketisation of higher education as well as policy makers and practitioners

Quality in Higher Education David Andrew Turner, 2012-01-01 The quality of higher education is a hot topic especially as students around the world are asked to pay more towards their own education and expect to get what they pay for In addition league tables both national and international have come to dominate discussion with several governments and many institutions setting themselves the goal of improving their ratings In this volume Professor Turner examines the assumptions that are being made about what counts as quality and what the traditional purposes of universities are But with the growth of mass higher education and the rise of student centred approaches to learning and teaching it has become increasingly clear that high quality education is education that meets the needs of the student at that particular moment and promotes their future development After examining a range of different approaches to the quality of higher education and its measurement Professor Turner develops an approach to benchmarking and quality enhancement that is better suited to the ethos of individualised learning and uses it to critique the philosophies that have dominated debates about quality to date This book will be of interest to scholars of higher education but also has something important to add to debates that engage policy makers in higher education It provides a background to the historical development of universities which might help postgraduate students ad new members of faculty understand the process in which they are engaged Handbook of Sustainability Science and Research Walter Leal Filho, 2017-10-03 This multidisciplinary handbook explores concrete case studies which illustrate how sustainability science and research can contribute to the realization of the goals of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development It contains contributions from sustainability researchers from across the world
