To Catch A Rabbit:

Rousseau's Economic Philosophy Bertil Fridén, 1998-10-31 An increasing body of literature concerns the economics of those highly appreciated qualities of life that are not easily provided by market exchange Today these problems are visible as never before for example environmental problems But already at the dawn of industrial society the problem had been observed by Rousseau His statements on the economy claim to take these problems into account with due importance In this way his economic philosophy concerns a different domain of the economy from for example Adam Smith's work Rousseau's philosophy attempts to consider phenomena later labeled information asymmetries and information costs bargaining collective good problems Some of Rousseau's most puzzling social proposals on theater women music etc can be explained by his well argued conviction that an optimal economy demands a high social morale a communicative morale He proposes an economic philosophy for the most important properties of richness such as experiencing the unique and being free although dependent on others empowerment It is for the adult capable of true deliberation not for the trifle of the innocent child He develops a concept of richness that is close to the Aristotelian capability concept later explored by Amartya Sen Rousseau's economic philosophy has not been treated in a monograph before The book should be rewarding to those interested in social theory the history of social and economic thought problems at the margins of market exchange e.g. cultural economics environmental economics students of Rousseau and the thought of the 18th century welfare economic theory in the direction of Arrow or Sen and Poanyi's and others theses about the transition from self-sufficiency to market

Sinologism Ming Dong Gu, 2013 Why for centuries have the West and the world continuously produced China knowledge that deviates from Chinese realities Why since the mid nineteenth century have Chinese intellectuals oscillated between commendation and condemnation of their own culture and between fetishization and demonization of all things Western And why have some of the world's wisest thinkers expressed opinions on Chinese culture which are simply wrong In order to answer these questions this book explores the process of knowledge production about China and the Chinese civilization and in turn provides a critique of the ways in which this knowledge is formed Ming Dong Gu argues that the misperceptions and misinterpretations surrounding China and the Chinese civilisation do not simply come from misinformation biases prejudices or political interference but follow certain taken for granted principles that have evolved into a cultural unconscious Indeed Gu argues that the conflicting accounts in China West studies are the inevitable outcome of this cultural unconscious which constitutes the inner logic of a comprehensive knowledge system which he terms Sinologism This book explores Sinologism's origin development characteristics and inner logic and critiques its manifestations in the writings of Chinese Western and non Western thinkers and scholars including Montesquieu Herder Hegel Marx Weber Russell Pound Wang Guowei Guo

Moruo Gu Jiegang Wen Yiduo and many others in diverse disciplines from arts and humanities to social sciences In doing so Gu demonstrates why the existing critical models are inadequate for Chinese materials and makes an attempt to construct an alternative theory to Orientalism and postcolonialism for China West studies and cross cultural studies Sinologism crosses over the subjects of history thought literature language art archaeology religion aesthetics and cultural theory and will appeal to students and scholars of East West studies with a particular focus on China as well as those interested in cultural theory more broadly

Wishbone Laura C. Jarmon, 2003 Jarmon English U of Tennessee Martin studies the history and attempts to trace the origins of several prevalent themes in African American folklore using folk tale collections from the US and Africa The themes link subjects with symbolic content such as tar baby with binding and transcription and the skull with presence and propriety An introduction presents Jarmon's methodology her thesis is that these narratives are a type of modal discourse that is symbolized by the motifs of the wishbone and crossroads which she sees as emblematic of the concept of margins and reflective of a mood of indeterminacy
