examines the relationship between masculinity homosexual desire and empire in British colonialist and imperialist fictions at the turn of the twentieth century Questioning the popular assumption that Britain's empire functioned with symbolic efficiency on sublimated desire this book presents a counterhistory of the empire's many layers of conflict and ambivalence Through attentive readings of sexual and political allegory in the work of Kipling Forster James Beerbohm Firbank and others and deft use of psychoanalytic theory The Ruling Passion interprets turbulent scenes of masculine identification and pleasure power and mastery intimacy and antagonism By foregrounding the shattering effects of male homosexuality and interracial desire and by insisting on the centrality of unconscious fantasy and the death drive The Ruling Passion examines the startling recurrence of colonial failure in narratives of symbolic doubt and ontological crisis Lane argues compellingly that Britain can progress culturally and politically only when it has relinquished its residual fantasies of global mastery

Anna-Teresa Tymieniecka, 2013-06-29 Among the multiple subliminal passions that inspire our life in innumerable ways literature shows us one that seems to play a particularly penetrating role in human concerns This passion which Tymieniecka calls an esoteric passion finds its projection and crystallization in space it is the esoteric passion for space This subliminal passion investigated through literature allows the philosopher to reach beneath the fallacious separations of nature humanness and the cultural world restoring the wholeness of experience that has become lost in the artificial one sidedness of contemporary approaches confined to language as they are The elemental passion for place is investigated here in the literary fruits of creative imagination Unravelled from the very depths of the primogenital onto poietic unfolding of life the passion for place is revealed as projecting into the flux of life it is a station of life significance This collection presents papers from two conferences of the International Society of Phenomenology and Literature held in Cambridge MA in 1993 4
