The Oxford Handbook of Administrative Justice Marc Hertogh, Richard Kirkham, Robert Thomas, Joe Tomlinson, 2022 The core animating feature of administrative justice scholarship is the desire to understand how justice is achieved through the delivery of public services and the actions inactions and decision making of administrative bodies The study of administrative justice also encompasses the redress systems by which people can challenge administrative bodies to seek the correction of injustices For a long time now scholars have been interested in administrative justice but without necessarily framing their work as such Rather than existing under the rubric of administrative justice much of the research undertaken has existed within sub categories of disciplines such as law sociology public policy politics and public administration Consequently although aspects of the topic have attracted rich contributions across such disciplines administrative justice has rarely been studied or taught in a manner that integrates these areas of research more systematically This Handbook signals a major change of approach Drawing together a group of world leading scholars of administrative justice from a range of disciplines The Oxford Handbook of Administrative Justice shows how administrative justice is a vibrant complex and contested field that is best understood as an area of inquiry in its own right rather than through traditional disciplinary silos

The Writing on the Wall Aeyal Gross, 2017-03-24 As Israel's control of the Occupied Palestinian Territory nears its fiftieth anniversary The Writing on the Wall offers a critical perspective on the international law of occupation Advocating a normative and functional approach to occupation and to the question of when it exists it analyzes the application of humanitarian and human rights law pointing to the risk of using the law of occupation in its current version to legitimize new variations of conquest and colonialism The book points to the need for reconsidering the law of occupation in light of changing forms of control such as those evident in Gaza Although the Israeli occupation is a main focal point the book broadens its compass to look at other cases such as Iraq Northern Cyprus and Western Sahara highlighting the role that international law plays in all of these cases

Pennsylvania Statistical Abstract, 2001

Neuroprotection in Brain Hypoxia Matilde Otero-Losada, Francisco G. Wandosell, Luis Miguel Garcia-Segura, Francisco Capani, 2019-08-30 Despite compelling preclinical evidence from laboratory models of brain hypoxia suggesting potential neuroprotective strategies only scattered data are available from clinical studies A few candidate neuroprotectants have been studied regarding antioxidant antiapoptotic anti excitotoxic immunomodulatory and neurotrophic effects In parallel with clinical innovations preclinical research initiatives are also identifying new animal models more closely resembling the clinical course and pathology of neurodegenerative diseases Clarifying the specific mission of the brain cells involved in the damage repair system in the examined animal models is important to define new therapeutic targets Following hypoxic damage detrimental events intermingle with the repairing events in both time and cellular dependent fashion Identifying reliable post hypoxia brain markers is mandatory to develop potential therapeutic interventions improving translational research from the experimental observations to the clinical application A deeper understanding of the precise participation of neurons glia and endothelial cells is expected to offer more clues for designing new therapeutic strategies to reduce the current gap among the experimental and the clinical data One of the main issues should be to study the epigenetic mechanism of neuroprotective agents and their action on the genetic modification induced by hypoxia Achieving this goal is presumed critical to obtain more conclusive results in patients that by now do not receive appropriate therapy for mitigating the several diseases generated by brain hypoxia Although a few ongoing studies are evaluating interesting approaches future research is necessary to come to a novel mechanism of neuroprotection This book encompasses different chapters conveying the goals and aims of the pertaining research Handbook of Childhood Behavioral Issues Thomas P. Gullotta, Gary M.

Blau, 2016-12-01 This handbook highlights present day information and evidence based knowledge in the field of children s behavioral health to enable practitioners families and others to choose and implement one of many intervention approaches provided Using a standardized format best practices for the prevention and treatment of many childhood behavioral disorders are identified based on current research sound theory and behavioral trial studies This revision includes an integration of the DSM 5 diagnostic manual and new chapters on childhood psychosis and military families and a thorough updating of the research in the previous edition Rethinking Gender, Work and Care in a New Europe Triin

Roosalu, 2016-04-29 Given the growing importance of Eastern European countries in the development of the EU there is an urgent need to reconstruct the recent dynamic developments in women s work and care in these societies and the socio political determinants thereof Considering their specific cultural economic and historical development it can be assumed that the trends and determinants of women s labour market trajectories in CEE countries differ significantly from those in the other European countries that have frequently made up the basis for established theories in social and labour market research This being the case can standard theoretical approaches mostly modelled on evidence from Western Europe be transferred to the analysis of Eastern European countries This edited collection scrutinises pivotal aspects of women s careers in Eastern Europe providing a detailed overview of trends and determinants of women s employment in Eastern Europe and reflecting critically on theoretical approaches in social and labour market research
