Valier, 1988-01-01 In addition to the apocalyptic prospect of global nuclear destruction there are other dismal scenarios involving resource and environmental issues that are less imminent but still serious in the long term Past analyses seeking remedies have focused on symptoms rather than causes They represent extensions and expressions of the same philosophies and strategies that created these situations This book brings a fresh and optimistic perspective to the problem area It explores modern consciousness research and transpersonal psychology for practices that accelerate the development of consciousness It covers a wide range from laboratory techniques of experimental psychiatry transpersonal psychotherapies and Jungian psychology to the Oriental and Western mystical traditions Helping Children Cope With Grief Alan

Wolfelt, 2013-08-21 First published in 1984 A common myth is that that young children say around three years of age do not understand death or give the death of friend pet brother sister parent grandparent other relative or give it a Raggedy Ann doll meaning However research has indicated that they do If it is difficult for us to think about our death it is the author's hypothesis that to think of the death of our children is an even greater difficulty We dread the thought of our children suffering pain dying and death Similarly the thought of our children suffering grief is difficult for us to comprehend Helping Children Cope With Grief is more universal to more than the area of grief and is a valuable tool for parents teachers and counselors when their goal is to develop happier more loving children Using the Power of Hope to Cope with Dying

Cathleen Fanslow, 2012-06-01 Introducing Cathleen Fanslow's Hope System which incorporates the four stages of hope hope for cure for treatment for prolongation of life and for peaceful death this book shows both the living and the dying how to use the power of hope to cope with the inevitable This powerful and simple system enables families friends and professional caregivers to understand and assist the dying on their journey regardless of their beliefs by addressing all levels of the experience physical emotional psychological and spiritual Concentrating on solutions for the day to day emotional needs of the dying this practical guide also features examples and stories from families that have experienced loss as well as helpful passages that provide hope throughout the ordeal Learning Through Dialogue Kenneth Paul Kramer, 2013-04-08

Educational practice today often fails to make the crucial distinction between learning as an accumulation of information and learning as a dialogical interaction that elicits one's personal response to the material Learning Through Dialogue offers an alternative approach to teaching and learning which utilizes Martin Buber's dialogical principles turning toward addressing affirmatively listening attentively and responding responsibly The book first presents Buber's educational theory and method and second presents specific examples of how Buber's dialogical philosophy can be applied in the classroom. Rather than imposing one's own views, this approach enables teachers and students to develop course content in uniquely appropriate ways. If you are a teacher, a student, an educator at any level, or anyone interested in furthering his or her ability to engage more meaningfully with the educational process, this book will challenge you with fresh perspectives.

Palliative Care
Harold Y. Vanderpool, 2015-07-02 The long history of medical care for the dying has largely been neglected. It began in 1605 when physicians were challenged to enable persons to die peacefully. Today it includes palliation of oppressive symptoms, emotional and psychological care, and respect for the wishes and cultural backgrounds of patients and families. Especially since the 1990s, it embraces symptom-easing palliation for patients with severe life-limiting and chronic illnesses. Providing a detailed picture of contemporary palliative care, this book chronicles four centuries of the quest for a good death, covering the fight against futile end-of-life treatments, the history of life-extending treatments and technologies, the roles of nurses, the liberation of the dying from isolation in hospitals, and hard-won victories to secure patients' right to choose.

Caring for the Dying Patient and the Family
Janet Moscrop, Joy Robbins, 2013-11-11 This third edition of a popular textbook has been completely revised by the joint editors Janet Moscrop and Joy Robbins. As in previous editions, the focus is on the person dying at home in residential care or in hospital, and the emphasis is on teamwork in caring for the individual and their relatives and friends. Experts in all aspects of care have contributed to this complete revision of the previous text, and each chapter is written by a different member of the multiprofessional team. The chapter on the terminal care of people suffering from AIDS has been enlarged, and consideration is also given to care of those in the terminal stages of other non-malignant diseases. Other new material includes chapters on complementary therapy, the use of the day centre, the value of volunteers, diversional therapy, and respite care. The chapter on bereavement covers many aspects of grief and loss, and there is a sensitive approach to the need for supporting staff in this specialized work. Consideration is also given to the needs of dying and grieving people from differing ethnic backgrounds with varying cultural expectations in a pluralistic society. The third edition offers a broad overview of the support given to the dying person and the carers by medical and nursing staff, physiotherapists, pharmacists, social workers, the chaplaincy, and members of the pastoral care team. Students of all these disciplines should find this book both readable and informative.

Jewish Views of the Afterlife
Simcha Paul Raphael, 2019-04-15 Originally published in 1994, Jewish Views of the Afterlife is a classic study of ideas of afterlife and postmortem survival in Jewish tradition and mysticism. As both a scholar and pastoral counselor, Raphael guides the reader through 4,000 years of Jewish thought on the afterlife by investigating pertinent sacred texts produced in each era. Through a compilation of ideas found in the Bible, Apocrypha, rabbinic literature, medieval philosophy, medieval Midrash, Kabbalah, Hasidism, and Yiddish literature, the reader learns how Judaism conceived of the fate of the individual after death throughout Jewish history. In addition, this book explores the implications of Jewish afterlife beliefs for a renewed understanding of traditional rituals of funeral, burial, shiva, kaddish and more This newly released twenty fifth anniversary edition presents new material on little known Jewish mystical teachings on reincarnation a chapter on Spirits Ghosts and Dybbuks in Yiddish Literature and a foreword by the renowned scholar of Jewish mysticism Rabbi Arthur Green Both historical and contemporary this book provides a rich resource for scholars and laypeople and for teachers and students and makes an important Jewish contribution to the growing contemporary psychology of death and dying

Physician's Guide to Coping with Death and Dying Jan Swanson, Alan Cooper, 2005 Education about death and dying has been almost ignored in medical schools Recently however it has become increasingly obvious that the preferences of dying patients are being ignored leaving many patients to die lonely scared and in pain There is a growing realization that physicians can help dying patients achieve a more peaceful death and increased recognition that good end of life care is not just the province of specialized hospice physicians or nurses Cooper a physician and a clinical psychologist with many years of experience offer insights to help medical students residents physicians nurses and others become more aware of the different stages in the dying process and learn how to communicate more effectively with patients and their families They also discuss the ways physicians and other caregivers can learn to reduce their own stress levels and avoid the risk of burnout allowing them to achieve balance in their lives and be more effective professionally The authors use case examples and thought provoking exercises to provide a personal learning experience bibliography and a unique web resource section with contacts to many organizations working with patients suffering from life threatening illnesses
