Proceedings of the Annual Congress of the American Prison Association American Prison Association. Congress, 1926 American Voices Bernard K. Duffy, Richard Leeman, 2005-08-30 Contemporary public speaking remains an important part of our national life and a substantial force in shaping current events. Many of America's most important moments and issues such as wars, scandals, election campaigns, September 11, 2001 have been defined by oratory. Here over 50 essays cover a substantial and interesting group of major American social, political, economic and cultural figures from the 1960s to the present. Each entry explains the biographical forces that shaped a speaker and his or her rhetorical approach, focuses mainly on a discussion of the orator's major speeches within the context of historical events and concludes with an appraisal of the speaker and his or her contribution to American political and social life. All entries incorporate chronologies of major speeches, bibliographies including primary sources, biographies and critical studies, and archival collections or Web sites appropriate for student research. Entries include high profile individuals such as John D. Ashcroft, Elizabeth Dole, Jerry Falwell, Anita Hill, Ralph Nader, Ronald Reagan, Janet Reno, Gloria Steinem, Malcolm X and many others. Excerpts of major speeches and sidebars complement the text. Ideal for researchers and students in public speaking classes, American history classes, American politics classes, contemporary public address classes and rhetorical theory/criticism classes. Armando Lara-Millán, 2021-03-26 Whenever the topic of large jails and public hospitals in urban America is raised a single idea comes to mind It is widely believed that because we as a society have disinvested from public health the sick and poor now find themselves within the purview of criminal justice institutions In Redistributing the Poor ethnographer and historical sociologist Armando Lara Millán takes us into the day to day operations of running the largest hospital and jail system in the world and argues that such received wisdom is a drastic mischaracterization of the way that states govern urban poverty at the turn of the 21st century Rather than focus on our underinvestment of health and overinvestment of criminal justice his idea of redistributing the poor draws attention to how state agencies circulate people between different institutional spaces in such a way that generates revenue for some agencies cuts costs for others and projects illusions that services have been legally rendered By centering the state's use of redistribution Lara Millán shows how certain forms of social suffering the premature death of mainly poor people of color are not a result of the state's failure to act but instead the necessary outcome of so called successful policy Federal Probation, 1965 Díosbóireachtaí Páirliminte Ireland. Injustice for All Chris Surprenant, Jason Brennan, 2019-12-06 American criminal justice is a dysfunctional mess Cops are too violent the punishments are too punitive and the so called Land of the Free imprisons more people than any other country in the world Understanding why means focusing on color not only on black or white which already has been studied extensively but also on green The problem is that nearly everyone involved in criminal justice including district attorneys elected judges the police voters and politicians faces bad incentives Local towns often would rather send people to prison on someone else's dime than pay for more effective policing themselves Local police forces can enrich themselves by turning into warrior cops who steal from innocent civilians Voters have very little incentive to understand the basic facts about crime or how to fix it and vote accordingly And politicians have every incentive to cater to voters' worst biases Injustice for All systematically diagnoses why and where American criminal justice goes wrong and offers functional proposals for reform By changing who pays for what how people are appointed how people are punished and which things are criminalized we can make the US a country which guarantees justice for all Key Features Shows how bad incentives not bad apples cause the dysfunction in American criminal justice Focuses not only on overincarceration but on overcriminalization and other failures of the criminal justice system Provides a philosophical and practical defense of reducing the scope of what's considered criminal activity Crosses ideological lines highlighting both the weaknesses and strengths of liberal conservative and libertarian agendas Fully integrates tools from philosophy and social science making this stand out from the many philosophy books on punishment on the one hand and the solely empirical studies from sociology and criminal science on the other Avoids disciplinary jargon broadening the book's suitability for students and researchers in many different fields and for an interested general readership Offers plausible reforms that realign specific incentives with the public good Circle of Conviction B.
