author's strongest characteristic is the ability to overcome challenges. She knows what it is like to be tossed in the wind to be battered and bruised yet she survives any storm. She rose to the highest rank of the nursing profession earning her BScN MSc and doctoral degrees in nursing. Her education, training, and experience have propelled her to other career fields including housing, public service, information, and labor. She has been chairman of the board of several organizations and sat in advisory capacities on others. Her most notable trait is that she is a humanitarian always defending the vulnerable and marginalized. Apart from her mother, the women who inspired her and whose legacy she emulates include the head of the International Monetary Fund Christine Lagarde, Margaret Thatcher, former British Prime Minister, Mary Eugenia Charles, former Prime Minister of the Caribbean Island of Dominica, Elnora Warner, nurse leader and educator of Antigua and Barbuda, Dr. Marjorie Parks of Belize, nurse leader and educator, and Aberdeen Brown of St. Vincent and the Grenadines, a former nurse leader and educator. Dr. Gittens' motto is "The sky is never the limit, look beyond."

Nomad Ayaan Hirsi Ali, 2010. This woman is a major hero of our time. Richard Dawkins. Ayaan Hirsi Ali captured the world's attention with Infidel, her compelling coming-of-age memoir which spent thirty-one weeks on the New York Times bestseller list. Now in Nomad, Hirsi Ali tells of coming to America to build a new life, an ocean away from the death threats made to her by European Islamists, the strife she witnessed, and the inner conflict she suffered. It is the story of her physical journey to freedom and more crucially her emotional journey to freedom, her transition from a tribal mind set that restricts women's every thought and action to a life as a free and equal citizen in an open society. Through stories of the challenges she has faced, she shows the difficulty of reconciling the contradictions of Islam with Western values. In these pages, Hirsi Ali recounts the many turns her life took after she broke with her family and how she struggled to throw off restrictive superstitions and misconceptions that initially hobbled her ability to assimilate into Western society. She writes movingly of her reconciliation on his deathbed with her devout father who had disowned her when she renounced Islam after 9/11, as well as with her mother and cousins in Somalia and in Europe. Nomad is a portrait of a family torn apart by the clash of civilizations. But it is also a touching, uplifting, and often funny account of one woman's discovery of today's America. While Hirsi Ali loves much of what she encounters, she fears we are repeating the European mistake of underestimating radical Islam. She calls on key institutions of the West, including universities, the feminist movement, and the Christian churches, to enact specific innovative remedies that would help other Muslim immigrants to overcome the challenges she has experienced and to resist the fatal allure of fundamentalism and terrorism. This is Hirsi Ali's intellectual coming-of-age, a memoir that conveys her philosophy as well as her experiences and that also conveys an urgent message and mission to inform the West of the extent of the threat from Islam, both from outside and from within our open societies. A celebration of free speech and democracy, Nomad is an important contribution to the history of ideas but above all a rousing call to action.
