The International Handbook of Educational Research in the Asia-Pacific Region J.P. Keeves, Ryo

Watanabe, 2013-11-11 The aim of the Handbook is to present readily accessible but scholarly sources of information about educational research in the Asia Pacific region. The scale and scope of the Handbook is such that the articles included in it provide substantive contributions to knowledge and understanding of education in the Asia region. In so doing the articles present the problems and issues facing education in the region and the findings of research conducted within the region that contribute to the resolution of these problems and issues. Moreover, since new problems and issues are constantly arising, the articles in the Handbook also indicate the likely directions of future developments. The different articles within the Handbook seek to conceptualize the problems in each specific content area under review, provide an integration of the research conducted within that area, the theoretical basis of the research, the practical implications of the research, and the contribution of the research towards the resolution of the problems identified. Thus the articles do not involve the reporting of newly conducted research but rather require a synthesis of the research undertaken in a particular area with reference to the research methods employed and the theoretical frameworks on which the research is based. In general, the articles do not advocate a single point of view but rather present alternative points of view and comment on the debate and disagreements associated with the conduct and findings of the research. Furthermore, it should be noted that the Handbook is not concerned with research methodology and only considers the methods employed in inquiry in so far as the particular methods of research contribute to the effective investigation of problems and issues that have arisen in the conduct and provision of education at different levels within the region.

Choo, Catherine Beavis, 2018-03-29 The continual rise of English as a global lingua franca has meant that English literature both as a discipline and as a tool in ESL and EFL classrooms is being used in varied ways outside the inner circle of English. This edited collection provides an overview of English literature education in the Asia Pacific in global times, bringing to international attention a rich understanding of the trends, issues and challenges specific to nations within the Asia Pacific region. Citizenship Education in Asia and the Pacific W.O. Lee, David L. Grossman, Kerry J. Kennedy, Gregory P. Fairbrother, 2013-11-11 It is a great pleasure to present this book edited by a distinguished team at the Hong Kong Institute of Education and with excellent contributors from nine countries in the region and beyond The book is a truly comparative work which significantly advances conceptual understanding The comparisons undertaken are at many levels and with different units for analysis One chapter undertakes comparison in two cities Hong Kong and Guangzhou three chapters make comparisons between two countries South Korea and Singapore Solomon Islands and Vanuatu South Korea and China and five chapters undertake comparisons across the whole region Other on individual countries or in one case on a single school In addition chapters focus several chapters examine the attitudes and roles played by individuals and groups within societies The book is thus an admirable example of the vitality of the field of comparative education in selecting different units for analysis and in examination of issues from diverse angles Within the book moreover readers will find a fascinating array of settings and environments On the one hand for example is Japan with its relatively homogenous culture a population of 126 million and a strong national identity based on language and history On the other hand is Solomon Islands which has a population of just 400 000 scattered over 1 000 islands approximately 90 indigenous languages and major social problems arising from cultural clashes economic forces political dynamics and legacies of colonialism

Higher Education in the Asia Pacific Peter Kell, 2009-10-02 The Asia Pacific is the fastest growing region on the globe and universities and higher education is experiencing a dramatic surge in demand and a reform by governments wanting higher education to drive change This edited collection has contributions from Australia Malaysia New Zealand China and the United States looks at how universities are coming to grips with the challenges of change in the Asia Pacific The contributors explore the key issues and dilemmas about how universities in the Asia Pacific are involved in international transnational markets and at the same time retain a role as nation building institutes The book also explores how globalisation and new technologies as well as new frameworks of professional knowledge are creating new challenges for the institutions of higher education. Hot topics include the role of universities in nation building, international markets in higher education, international collaborations and partnerships, governance in universities, quality in offshore programs, professional learning and universities, student plagiarism, academic careers for women, international students and language proficiency and language use in multicultural universities. Contributors include Michael Singh, Peter Kell, Gillian Vogl, Tony Herrington from Australia, Mary Kalantzis from the United States, Morshidi Sirat, Abdul Razak, Ahmad Sarjit, Kuar Koo, Yew Lie, Vincent Pang, and Rozinah Jamaludin from Malaysia, and Michelle Lunn from New Zealand, and Yuping Wang from China. Higher Education in the Asia Pacific: Challenges for the Future fills a vacuum in the literature on the changing nature of tertiary education with this insightful book. Arguably, we are experiencing the most dynamic change in academic life in a century, and these authors discuss these changes in multiple contexts in Asia. The text investigates a veritable cornucopia of topics: the relationship between the state and the university, the nature of international collaboration, how university governance is being restructured, and the import of quality assurance, to name a few. This is a smart read on critical topics in an area that has been little studied but facing explosive growth. William G. Tierney, University Professor, Wilbur Kieffer Professor of Higher Education, Director, Center for Higher Education Policy Analysis, University of Southern California, WPH701, Los Angeles, CA 90089-4037. Expansive in outreach and grounded in practical experience, this edited collection presents a rich variety of expert practitioners reflecting on the many issues shaping current and future trends in Higher Education in the Asia Pacific Region. The wide-ranging issues addressed in this book offers the reader both insights and challenges in their quest to explore further and articulate the essential elements of authentic International Higher Education. An excellent resource for all involved with and concerned about Global Higher Education and its future directions. Andrew Scown, Vice President, Academic, RMIT International University, Vietnam.

While East Meets West: A Chinese Diaspora Scholar And Social Activist In Asia-Pacific Ching-hwang Yen, 2022-04-07. Born in South China before 1949, brought up and educated in Southeast Asia and Australia, and having worked in Southeast Asia, Australia, and Hong Kong, Professor Yen has a unique personal experience in telling the fascinating stories of the encounter and clashes of cultural and social values between East and West. Imbued with many traditional Chinese cultural values such as diligence, perseverance, resilience, and determination, in this book he tells his life story of how he was determined to climb the pinnacle of scholarship. As an ethnic minority in Australian society, he devoted himself to fight for the interests of the Chinese diaspora and help promote multiculturalism in Australia. This book also provides first-hand source materials for the study of intellectuals from the Chinese diaspora studying and working in a Western university through his eyes: his initial problem of adjusting to a new Western environment, his experience of cultural dislocation, the clashes of cultural values and social mores, his experience of racial discrimination, and his pursuit of academic excellence.
