Chapter 1

1. We get the following description of Maycomb:

Maycomb was an old town, but it was a tired old town when I first knew it. In rainy weather the streets turned to red slop. . . [s]omehow it was hotter than Gony mules hitched to Hoover carts flicked flies in the sweltering shade of the live oak in the square. Men's stiff collars wilted by nine in the morning. Ladies bathed before noon, after their three-o'clock naps, and by nightfall were like soft teacakes with frostings of sweet and sweet talkum. . . . There was no hurry, for there was nowhere to go, nothing to buy and no money to buy it with, nothing to see outside the boundaries of Maycomb County. But it was a time of vague optimism for some of the people: Maycomb County had recently been told that it had nothing to fear but fear itself.

Explain how the setting (especially this description of it) helps set the tone for the novel. What is the mood/atmosphere here?

2. The narrator is telling the story through flashback (she's older now, looking back on her childhood). How does this affect the story? Another way to phrase the question: how is the story we get different from the story we would get if the narrator really were five years old?

3. Find at least two passages from the novel that you find particularly enjoyable/interesting for whatever reason (the language interests you, you can relate to the narrator's point, etc). Be sure to note them here or mark them in your text.

Chapter 2 and Chapter 3

1. Find and list phrases and comments on Walter Cunningham that describe and characterize the young boy.

2. Describe what you know about the Ewells. What's your opinion of them and why?

3. Miss Caroline: What do you think of her as a teacher? Why?

4. Describe Calpurnia's role within the Finch household? What does this tell you about her and the Finch family? Why do you think this (think about the time that this story takes place.)

5. Atticus says that you never really understand a person "until you climb into his skin and walk around in it". What does this mean?

6. Find at least two passages from the novel that you find particularly enjoyable/interesting for whatever reason (the language interests you, you can relate to the narrator's point, etc). Be sure to note them here or mark them in your text.
