Inspired by the lost bliss of her childhood summers in Cornwall Virginia Woolf produced one of the masterworks of English literature in To the Lighthouse. It concerns the Ramsay family and their summer guests on the Isle of Skye before and after the First World War. As children play and adults paint, talk, muse and explore, relationships shift and mutate. A captivating fusion of elegy, autobiography, socio-political critique and visionary thrust, it is the most accomplished of all Woolf's novels. On completing it, she thought she had exorcised the ghosts of her imposing parents, but she had also brought form to a book every bit as vivid and intense as the work of Lily Briscoe, the indomitable artist at the centre of the novel.

This is the Annotated Version of the Original Book. This is the Summarized Version of the Original Book. This Summary Version consists of approx 45,000 words, which are 60% to 70% approximately summary of the original Book. The Summary Book is also in 3 parts, explaining each part separately. The Description of the eBook is written as follows:

Part 1 The novel is set in the Ramsays' summer home in the Hebrides on the Isle of Skye. The section begins with Mrs Ramsay assuring her son James that they should be able to visit the lighthouse on the next day. This prediction is denied by Mr Ramsay, who voices his certainty that the weather will not be clear, an opinion that forces a certain tension between Mr and Mrs Ramsay and also between Mr Ramsay and James. This particular incident is referred to on various occasions throughout the section, especially in the context of Mr and Mrs Ramsay's relationship. The Ramsays and their eight children have been joined at the house by a number of friends and colleagues. One of them, Lily Briscoe, begins the novel as a young, uncertain painter attempting a portrait of Mrs Ramsay, and James Briscoe finds himself plagued by doubts throughout the novel, doubts largely fed by the claims of Charles Tansley, another guest who asserts that women can neither paint nor write. Tansley himself is an admirer of Mr Ramsay, a philosophy professor and his academic treatises. When Augustus Carmichael, a visiting poet, asks for a second serving of soup, Mr Ramsay nearly snaps at him. Mrs Ramsay is herself out of sorts when Paul Rayley and Minta Doyle, two acquaintances whom she has brought together in engagement, arrive late to dinner as Minta has lost her grandmother's brooch on the beach.

Part 2 The second section, 'Time Passes', gives a sense of time passing, absence and death. Ten years pass during which the First World War begins and ends. Mrs Ramsay dies, as do two of her children: Prue dies from complications of childbirth and Andrew is killed in the war. Mr Ramsay has left adrift without his wife to praise and comfort him during his bouts of fear and anguish regarding the longevity of his philosophical work. This section is told from an omniscient point of view and occasionally from Mrs McNab's point of view. Mrs McNab worked in Ramsay's house since the beginning and thus provides a clear view of how things have changed in the time the summer house has been unoccupied.

Part 3 In the final

section The Lighthouse some of the remaining Ramsays and other guests return to their summer home ten years after the events of Part I Mr Ramsay finally plans on taking the long delayed trip to the lighthouse with daughter Camilla and son James the remaining Ramsay children are virtually unmentioned in the final section The trip almost does not happen as the children are not ready but they eventually set off As they travel the children are silent in protest at their father for forcing them to come along However James keeps the sailing boat steady and rather than receiving the harsh words he has come to expect from his father he hears praise providing a rare moment of empathy between father and son Camilla's attitude towards her father changes also from resentment to eventual admiration The son cuts a piece of flesh from a fish he has caught to use for bait throwing the injured fish back into the sea While they set sail for the lighthouse Lily attempts to finally complete the painting she has held in her mind since the start of the novel She reconsiders her memory of Mrs and Mr Ramsay balancing the multitude of impressions from ten years ago in an effort to reach towards an objective truth about Mrs Ramsay and life itself Upon finishing the painting just as the sailing party reaches the lighthouse and seeing that it satisfies her she realizes that the execution of her vision is more important to her than the idea of leaving some sort of legacy in her work
