Silva,2022-08-22 This book highlights the importance of English academic vocabulary for success at university and explores written tasks as effective pedagogical tools to promote the acquisition of academic words The book reviews germane and recent SLA psycholinguistic corpus linguistics and L2 writing research to underscore the challenges associated with the learning of academic words Then it reports on three empirical studies conducted in the Polish context The first study develops a reliable tool to assess the knowledge of academic vocabulary of undergraduate learners The second and third studies investigate the learning of academic words after the writing of sentences and argumentative essays and discuss the role of cognition as a mediator of such learning The book also provides an accessible introduction to linear mixed effect models a powerful reliable and flexible statistical technique that has been gaining popularity among SLA and psycholinguistics researchers Written and Spoken Language Development across the Lifespan Joan Perera,Melina Aparici,Elisa Rosado,Naymé Salas,2015-11-23 This multidisciplinary volume offers insights on oral and written language development and how it takes place in literate societies The volume covers topics from early to late language development its interaction with literacy practices including several languages monolingual and multilingual contexts different scripts as well as typical and atypical development Inspired by the work of Liliana Tolchinsky a leading expert in language and literacy development a group of internationally renowned scholars offers a state of the art overview of current thinking in language development in literate societies in its broadest sense Contributors offer a personal tribute to Liliana Tolchinsky in the opening section Defining and Assessing Lexical Proficiency Agnieszka Leńko-Szymańska,2019-11-05 This comprehensive account of performance based assessment of L2 lexical proficiency analyzes and compares two of the primary methods of evaluation used in the field and unpacks the ways in which they tap into different dimensions of one model of lexical competence and proficiency This book builds on the latest research on performance based assessment which has most recently pointed to the application of more quantitative measures to L2 data to systematically explore the qualitative method of using human raters in assessment exercises and the quantitative method of using automatic computation of statistical measures of lexis and phraseology Supported by an up to date review of the existing literature both approaches unique features are highlighted but also compared to one another to provide a holistic overview of performance based assessment as it stands today at both the theoretical and empirical level These findings are exemplified in a concluding chapter which summarizes results from an empirical study looking at a range of lexical and phraseological features and human raters scores of over 150 essays written by both L2 learners of English and native speakers Taken together the volume challenges existing tendencies within the field which attempt to use one method to validate one another by demonstrating their capacity to indicate very different elements of lexical proficiency thereby offering a means by which to better conceptualize performance based assessment of L2 vocabulary in the future This book will be of interest to students and researchers working in second language acquisition and applied linguistics research particularly those interested in issues around assessment vocabulary acquisition and language proficiency The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a CC BY NC ND 4.0 license
