Night Karen Wiesner, 2016-05-10 Ty Foxx left home when he was a teenager taking his brother Jeff with him. The horror they both suffered as children along with their other three siblings at their father's hands has scarred them both. Ty had tried to take care of and shelter his younger brother eventually becoming a successful photographer but in the end he couldn't save him. He hasn't looked back for so long he's stunned when he learns that his father succumbed to an illness that plagued him for years. The threat and terror he posed is over dead and gone. Even though Ty is filled with self-loathing and fury at the past with the loss of his brother he knows the time has come for him to go home and face the rest of his family and all that he's been running from in life. Cherish Stephenson owns a flourishing flower shop and mail order business. The rape that drove her fiancé away when she was in college and left her terrified of getting close to anyone is the only sign that her life isn't everything and all she intends it to be. When she meets Ty her employee Darlene's brother and the attraction is instantaneous and mutual. Cherish realizes how much she's missed in her life by being afraid of the shadows of the night. But Ty may be even more broken than she is by the past. Can they heal each other with the light of love or is the only thing left for both of them to accept living out the rest of their lives alone wounded and scared of the dark.

When Zeke is released on parole Amber finds herself questioning everything she's ever believed. Is Zeke the good man she once knew? How could the father who'd made her the center of his world for the first seven years of her life be a criminal?
