Mutuality, Mystery, and Mentorship in Higher Education Mary Jo Hinsdale, 2015-03-17 This book is for higher education faculty and staff who wish to deepen their approach to mentoring all students but it is especially concerned with outsider students those who come from groups that were long excluded from higher education and who have been marginalized and minoritized by society and academia Mentoring is difficult work for an abundance of reasons and given higher education's troubled history of exclusion as well as a contemporary context fraught with social and power imbalances it can be especially challenging when the mentorship takes place across dimensions of difference such as social class race ethnicity sexuality gender or ability Mutuality Mystery and Mentorship in Higher Education examines the seemingly spontaneous and serendipitous connection between mentor and protégé and points to a new vision of mentorship based on a deep sense of reciprocity between the two Hinsdale proposes that if more mentors take a responsive decolonizing approach to their work across difference then the promise of social and class mobility through education might be realized for more of our students and the tide might begin to turn toward an increasingly inclusive intellectually open academy

Mentorship/Methodology Leigh Gruwell, Charles Lesh, 2024-04-22 Mentorship Methodology brings together emerging and established scholars to consider the relationship between mentoring practices and research methodologies in writing studies and related fields Each essay in this edited collection produces a new intellectual space from which to theorize the dynamics of combining mentoring and research in institutions and communities of higher education The contributors consider how methodology informs mentorship how mentorship activates methodology and how to locate the future of the field in these moments of intersection Mentorship through the research and relationships it nourishes creates the future of writing studies or conversely reproduces the past At the juncture where this happens the contributors inquire Where have current arrangements of mentorship methodology taken writing studies Where do these points of intersection exist in performance and practice in theory in research What images of the field do they produce How can scholars better articulate and write about these moments or spaces in which mentorship and methodology collide in productive disciplinary work By making the slash more visible Mentorship Methodology provides significant
