Blumczynski revisits one of the earliest and most fundamental senses of translation corporeal transfer His study of translated religious officials and translated relics reframes our understanding of translation as a process creating a sense of connection with another time place object or person He argues that a promise of translationality animates a broad spectrum of cultural artistic and commercial endeavours it is invoked for example in museum exhibitions art galleries celebrity endorsements and the manufacturing of musical instruments Translationality offers a way to reimagine the dynamic entanglements of matter and meaning space and time past and present This book will be of interest to students and scholars in translation studies as well as related disciplines such as the history of religion anthropology of art and material culture
