Oppositions and Ideology in News Discourse Matt Davies, 2013-05-23 Investigates how binary oppositions are constructed discursively and how they are used in news reports in the British press

The Language of Inequality in the News Michael Toolan, 2018-12-06 Why in the early 1970s does The Times reject the idea of a national lottery as rewarding luck not merit and effort but warmly welcome one by the 1990s Why in the 1970s do the Daily Mail's TV reviews address serious contemporary themes such as class and race relations whereas forty years later they are largely concerned with celebrities talent shows and nostalgia Why does the Conservative Chancellor in the 2010s mention Britain so very often when the Conservative Chancellor in the 1970s scarcely does at all Covering news stories spanning forty five years Michael Toolan explores how wealth inequality has been presented in centre right British newspapers focusing on changes in the representation may have helped present day inequality seem justifiable Toolan employs corpus linguistic and critical discourse analytic methods to identify changing lexis and verbal patterns and gaps all of which contribute to the way wealth inequality was represented in each of the decades from the 1970s to the present Constructing Crime C.

Gregoriou,2012-02-29 Crime and criminals are a pervasive theme in all areas of our culture including media journalism film and literature This book explores how crime is constructed and culturally represented through a range of areas including Spanish English Language and Literature Music Criminology Gender Law Cultural and Criminal Justice Studies Textual Choices in Discourse Barbara Dancygier,José Sanders,Lieven Vandelanotte,2012-07-18

In recent years research in cognitive linguistics has expanded its interests to cover a variety of texts spoken written or multimodal Analytical tools such as conceptual metaphor frame semantics mental spaces and grammatical constructions have been productively applied in various discourse contexts In this volume originally published as a special issue of English Text Construction 3 2 2010 the contributors a mix of established and emerging authors in the field analyse broadcast and print journalism argumentative scientific discourse radio lectures on music and the main literary genres the poetry of Szymborska and bpNichol the drama of Shakespeare the modernist prose of Virginia Woolf and recent fiction by John Banville Collectively the findings suggest a need to broaden and refine the cognitive linguistic repertoire while also uncovering new ways to interpret textual data The book will appeal to researchers and graduate students with interests in cognitive poetics and linguistics stylistics pragmatics and construction grammar Keywords in the Press: The New Labour Years Lesley Jeffries,Brian Walker,2017-11-16

Building on Raymond Williams iconic Keywords released in 1975 Jeffries and Walker show how some pivotal words significantly increased in use and evolved in meaning during the years of the New Labour project Focussing on print news media this book establishes a set of socio political keywords for the Blair Years and demonstrates how their evolving meanings are indicative of the ideological landscape in Britain at that time and the extent to which the cultural hegemony of the New Labour project influenced the language of the commentariat Combining corpus linguistic approaches with critical stylistics the authors conduct an analysis of two newspaper corpora using computational tools Looking closely at textually constructed meanings within the data their investigation of the keywords has a qualitative focus and sets out a clear methodology for combining corpus approaches with systematic co textual analysis Making Sense of Narrative Text

Michael Toolan,2016-06-03 This book takes the following question as its starting point What are some of the crucial things the reader must do in order to make sense of a literary narrative The book is a study of the texture of narrative fiction using stylistics corpus linguistic principles especially Hoey s work on lexical patterning narratological ideas and cognitive stylistic work by Werth Emmott and others Michael Toolan explores the textual grammatical nature of fictional narratives critically re examining foundational ideas about the role of lexical patterning in narrative texts and also engages the cognitive or psychological processes at play in literary reading The study grows out of the theoretical questions that stylistic analyses of extended fictional texts raise concerning the nature of narrative comprehension and the reader s experience in the course of reading narratives and particularly concerning the role of language in that comprehension and experience The ideas of situation repetition and picturing are all central to the book s argument about how readers process story and Toolan also considers the ethical and emotional involvement of the reader developing hypotheses about the text linguistic characteristics of the most ethically and emotionally involving portions of the stories examined This book makes an important contribution to the study of narrative text and is in dialogue with recent work in corpus stylistics cognitive stylistics and literary text and texture
