■ THE SILK ROADS

The major trade routes during this time, the Silk roads, the Indian Ocean Trade, and the Trans-Saharan routes have more to do with the shaping of old cultures and the beginnings of new cultures than maybe anything else during this period.

The most famous of all the trading routes, the land-based Silk roads stretched all the way from China to Europe and into North Africa.

The Silk Roads had been around before 1200, but they worked best as a conduit of trade when large empires controlled all the land across which they stretched. For example, if we go all the way back to the 200s we can see the Roman empire and Han China engaging in a robust trading relationship because between the two empires controlled the land across which the Silk Roads stretched. And later when the Mongols took over everything in the known world, those trade routes flourished.

During prosperous times a vast array of goods wound their way across the continent along these routes usually packed into the saddle bags of a camel caravan.

The king of these luxuries was Chinese silk. And once people figured out how to make clothes out of it, the demand for silk spiked across the upper classes because it was considered a status symbol.
