Journey in Contemporary Italian Literature Cinzia Sartini Blum, 2008-09-06 The mobility of women is a central issue in feminist analysis of literary works and historical periods Rewriting the Journey in Contemporary Italian Literature explores the concept of the journey from feminist psychoanalytic and postcolonial perspectives in order to offer an alternative understanding of moving Cinzia Sartini Blum examines the new literature of migration in Italian and journeys in the works of Biancamaria Frabotta Dacia Maraini Toni Maraini and Maria Pace Ottieri to demonstrate that women writers and migrant authors in contemporary Italy present journeys as events that are beyond heroic modern exploration and postmodern fragmentation Using the mythical figure of Gradiva Blum shows how contemporary Italian women writers have reinvented Gradiva to reveal subjectivities that challenge and overcome the postmodern melancholia and nihilism prevalent in contemporary male writers and thinkers She also considers the connection between metaphorical and literal mobility the role of the intellectual as cultural intermediary the roles of women in cultural encounters within mass migrations and how migrancy is a way of being in the postcolonial world An impeccable piece of original scholarship Rewriting the Journey in Contemporary Italian Literature will be of interest to feminist literary and postcolonial scholars Contemporary Italian Filmmaking Manuela Gieri, 1995-01-01 Contemporary Italian Filmmaking is an innovative critique of Italian filmmaking in the aftermath of World War II as it moves beyond traditional categories such as genre film and auteur cinema Manuela Gieri demonstrates that Luigi Pirandello's revolutionary concept of humour was integral to the development of a counter tradition in Italian filmmaking that she defines humoristic She delineates a Pirandellian genealogy in Italian cinema literature and culture through her examination of the works of Federico Fellini Ettore Scola and many directors of the new generation such as Nanni Moretti Gabriele Salvatores Maurizio Nichetti and Giuseppe Tornatore A celebrated figure of the theatrical world Luigi Pirandello 1867-1936 is little known beyond Italy for his critical and theoretical writings on cinema and for his screenplays Gieri brings to her reading of Pirandello's work the critical parameters offered by psychoanalysis poststructuralism and postmodernism to develop a syncretic and transcultural vision of the history of Italian cinema She identifies two fundamental trends of development in this tradition the melodramatic imagination and the humoristic or comic imagination With her focus on the humoristic imagination Gieri describes a Pirandellian mode derived from his revolutionary utterances on the cinema and narrative and specifically from his essay on humour L'umorismo On Humour 1908 She traces a history of the Pirandellian mode in cinema and investigates its characteristics demonstrating the original nature of Italian filmmaking that is particularly indebted to Pirandello's interpretation of humour Trends in Contemporary Italian Narrative 1980-2007 Gillian Ania, Ann Hallamore Caesar, 2009-05-05 The new Italian narrative that began to be spoken about in the 1980s was not associated with a single writer or movement but with an eclectic and varied production The eight essays that make up this volume set out to give a flavour of the breadth and range of recent trends and developments The collection opens with two essays on crime fiction In the first Luca Somigli examines novels dealing with topical issues or

recent history and which reveal a strong indigenous and regional tradition while in the second Nicoletta McGowan discusses the particular case of a noir by Claudia Salvatori They are followed by essays on two of Italy's best known contemporary writers Marina Spunta's essay explores the representation of space place and landscape in the work of Gianni Celati and photographer Luigi Ghirri while Darrell O Connell analyses the fiction of Vincenzo Consolo and his struggle to find a means of representing an ethical stance within fiction Two essays then examine the role of the anthology for young writers Charlotte Ross and Derek Duncan in the context of lesbian and gay writing looking at identity politics and the problematics of categorization Monica Jansen and Inge Lanslots in that of the Young Cannibals and their often unsettling non literary language and orientation towards cinema pop music and slang The penultimate essay by Jennifer Burns discusses the literature of migrants to Italy focusing on questions of identity memory mobility and language while the final contribution by Gillian Ania is a study of apocalypse and dystopia in contemporary writing looking at novels by Vassalli Capriolo Avoledo and Pispisa This volume examines Italian narrative from the 1980s to the present from the original viewpoint of genres categories trends rather than author based analyses It highlights the innovations of the last twenty years incorporating into the various themes well known writers like Consolo Celati and Vassalli with relative newcomers like Avoledo and Pispisa The contributors to the volume academics from the UK Ireland Canada Belgium cover a wide range of themes which have come to the fore during this period ranging from detective stories both the giallo and the noir to lesbian and gay writing to immigration literature in Italian to the study of apocalypse and dystopia The themes are contextualized in the socio political and cultural changes taking place in Italy and parallel to this the temporal moments of the narratives are in turn related to their historical realities This is a richly woven account which presents post 80s Italian narrative from a new and stimulating angle in eight lucid and informative essays which will be welcomed by all those interested in contemporary fiction in its cultural context Professor Anna Laura Lepschy Department of Italian University College London between the two art forms A group of Italian poets from Gabriele D Annunzio to Giorgio Caproni by way of Umberto Saba and Eugenio Montale made opera a cornerstone of their artistic craft More than an occasional stylistic influence opera is rather analyzed as a fundamental facet of these poets intellectual quest to overcome the expressive limitations of lyrical poetry This book reframes modern Italian poetry in a truly interdisciplinary perspective broadening our understanding of its prominence within the humanities in the twentieth century and beyond

The Importance of Place in Contemporary Italian Crime Fiction Barbara Pezzotti,2012-09-14 By taking as its point of departure the privileged relationship between the crime novel and its setting this book is the most wide ranging examination of the way in which Italian detective fiction in the last twenty years has become a means to articulate the changes in the social landscape of the country Nowadays there is a general acknowledgment of the importance of place in Italian crime novels However apart from a limited scholarship on single cities the genre has never been systematically studied in a way that so comprehensively spans Italian national boundaries The originality of this volume also lies in the fact that the author have not limited her investigation to a series of cities but rather she has considered the different forms of social landscape in which Italian crime novels are set Through the analysis of the way in which cities the urban sprawl and islands are represented in the serial novels of eleven of the most important contemporary crime writers in Italy of the 1990s Pezzotti articulates the different ways in which individual authors appropriate the structures and tropes of the genre to reflect the social transformations and dysfunctions of contemporary Italy In so doing this volume also makes a case for the genre as an instrument of social critique and analysis of a still elusive Italian national identity thus bringing further evidence in support of the thesis that in Italy detective fiction has come to play the role of the new social novel
