State Formation After Civil War Derek M Powell, 2016-08-05 State formation after civil war offers a new model for studying the formation of the state in a national peace transition as an integrated national phenomenon Current models of peacebuilding and state building limit that possibility reproducing a fragmented selective view of this complex reality Placing too much emphasis on state building as design they place too little on understanding state formation as unplanned historical process The dominant focus on national institutions also ignores the role that cities and civic polities have played in constituting the modern state Mining ideas from many disciplines and evidence from 19 peace processes including South Africa the book argues that the starting point for building a systematic theory is to explain a distinct pattern to state formation that can be observed in practice Despite their conflicts people in fragile societies bargain terms for peaceful coexistence they make attempts to constitute the right to rule as valid state authority in circumstances prone to conflict over which they have imperfect influence not control Though the kind of institutions created will differ with context how rules for state authority are institutionalized follows a consistent basic pattern That pattern defines state formation in peace transitions as both a unified if contingent field of normative practice and an object of comparative study Where the national centric models see local government as a matter belonging to policy on decentralization for later in the reconstruction phase the book uncovers a distinct local government dimension to peace transitions A civic dimension to national conflicts that must be explained incipient or proto local authorities that emerge even during civil war in peace making after state collapse the fact that it is common for peace agreements and constitutions to include rules for local authority for local elections to be held as part of broader democratization and for laws to be enacted to establish local government as part of peace compacts The book develops the concept of local peace transition to explain the distinctive constitutive role of this local dimension in peace making and state formation This path breaking book will be of compelling interest to practitioners scholars and students of comparative constitutional studies international law peace building and state building Family Formation in 21st Century Australia Genevieve Heard,Dharmalingam

Arunachalam,2014-10-13 This book provides a detailed up to date snapshot of Australian family formation answering such questions as what do our families look like and how have they come to be this way The book applies sociological insights to a broad range of demographic trends painting a comprehensive picture of the changing ways in which Australians are creating families The first contemporary volume on the subject Family Formation in 21st Century Australia chronicles significant changes in partnering and fertility In the late 20th century cohabitation divorce and births outside marriage rose dramatically Yet family formation patterns continue to evolve requiring fresh analysis Even since the turn of the century divorce has stabilized and fertility has increased Using information from the 2011 Australian Census and from large scale surveys leading Australian academics dissect recent trends in cohabitation living apart together marriage interethnic partnering relationship dissolution repartnering contraceptive use and fertility Since there is more diversity in family formation patterns than ever before the book also considers differences between groups within the Australian population Which groups are more likely to marry cohabit or have higher fertility And how do patterns differ among indigenous migrant or same sex attracted Australians European Yearbook of International Economic Law 2015 Christoph Herrmann,Markus Krajewski,Jörg Philipp Terhechte,2015-07-04 This sixth volume 2015 of the European Yearbook of International Economic Law puts a particular emphasis on non tariff barriers NTBs to trade and the world trade order With the steady reduction of tariff rates since the GATT 47 came into force focus in recent years has been on the vast and complex landscape of non tariff barriers to trade States as well as scholars seemingly struggle with the multitude of measures pooled under this expression as there is no single acknowledged definition of the term and its relation to the term non tariff measures remains equally blurred Particularly in practice and on a multilateral level there appears to be some awkwardness when it comes to coping with NTBs since multilateral trade rules seem to be in conflict with national regulatory autonomy in the pursuit of policy objectives In part one this volume sheds light on the problems of non tariff barriers to trade that arise in various fields Part two focuses on regional integration with an emphasis on relations between East Asia and the European Union In this regard the authors outline the trade and investment relations between the European Union and East Asia including Japan Korea and Singapore Part three offers an overview of recent institutional developments in WIPO ICSID WTO and WTO jurisprudence Part four includes book reviews of recent works in the field of international economic law and part five introduces a new section on publications in the field of international economic law that were released in 2013 and 2014 Attitudes
