North West University Application Form For 2015:

Quality education Muchativugwa L. Hove, Martha Matashu, 2021-11-30 This book investigates the intersections between education social justice gendered violence and human rights in South African schools and universities The rich and multifarious tapestry of scholarship and literature emanating from South African classrooms provides a fascinating lens through which we can understand the complex consequences of the economies of education social justice imperatives gendered violence in the lives of women and children and marginalised communities The scholarship in the book challenges readers to imagine alternative futures predicated on the transformational capacity of a democratic South Africa Contributors to this volume examine the many ways in which social justice and gendered violence mirror express project and articulate the larger phenomenon of human rights violations in Africa and how in turn the discourse of human rights informs the ways in which we articulate interrogate conceptualise enact and interpret quality education The book also wrestles with the linguistic contradictions and ambiguities in the articulation of quality education in public and private spaces This book is essential reading for scholars seeking a solid grounding in exploring quality education the instances of epistemic disobedience the political implications of place and power and human rights in theory and practice Ride the Frontier Flavia

Brizio-Skov, 2021-02-17 With fresh appraisals of popular Westerns this book examines the history of the genre with a focus on definitional aspects of canon adaptation and hybridity The author covers a range of largely unexplored topics including the role of heroines in a supposedly male oriented system of film production the function of the celluloid Indians the transcultural and transnational history of the first spaghetti Western the construction of femininity and masculinity in the hybrid Westerns of the 1950s and the new paths of the Western in the 21st century Application of LC-MS/MS in the Mycotoxins Studies

Laura Gámiz-Gracia, Ana M. García-Campaña, Natalia Arroyo-Manzanares, 2020-06-17 Mycotoxins are secondary metabolites produced by the fungi of different species mainly Aspergillus Fusarium and Penicillium with toxic effects for humans and animals These mycotoxins can contaminate food and feed The European Union EU has established the maximum permitted or recommended levels for well known mycotoxins in different foodstuffs However there are other mycotoxins that are not included in the regulations the emerging mycotoxins whose toxicity is still not clear and the modified or masked mycotoxins produced as a consequence of a detoxification strategy of the host plant of the fungus or during food processing These mycotoxins could pose a risk and should also be taken into account In order to assure consumers health analytical methods for the accurate determination of mycotoxins in different food matrices and feeds are required In this sense liquid chromatography tandem mass spectrometry LC MS MS is a powerful tool for their unique identification and quantification Moreover the use of high resolution mass spectrometry HRMS allows one to identify novel mycotoxins and targeted untargeted approaches for study This Special Issue compiles recent applications of LC MS MS in mycotoxin studies as well as the development and validation of new analytical methods for their identification and quantification in different food matrices and feed occurrence studies and the biomonitoring of mycotoxins and their metabolites in biological fluids      10th European Conference on Information Systems Management Paulo Silva,António Guerreiro,Rui Quaresma,2016

World Ocean Assessment Alan Simcock,2017-04-17 This United Nations report examines the current state of knowledge of the world s oceans for policymakers and provides a reference for marine science courses      Violence, Inequality and Transformation: Apartheid Survivors on South Africa's Ongoing Transition Jasmina Brankovic,Brian Mphahlele,Sindiswa Nunu,Agnes Ngxukuma,Nompumelelo Njana,Yanelisa Sishuba,2020-01-29 Despite its lauded political transition in 1994 South Africa continues to have among the highest levels of violence and inequality in the world Organised survivors of apartheid violations have long maintained that we cannot adequately address violence in the country let alone achieve full democracy without addressing inequality This book is built around extensive quotes from members of Khulumani Support Group the apartheid survivors social movement and young people growing up in Khulumani families It shows how these survivors who bridge the past and the present through their activism understand and respond to socioeconomic drivers of violence Pointing to the continuities between apartheid oppression and post apartheid marginalisation in everyday life the narratives detail ways in which the democratic dispensation has strengthened barriers to social transformation and helped enable violence They also present strategies for effecting change through collaboration dialogue and mutual training and through partnerships with diverse stakeholders that build on local level knowledge and community based initiatives The lens of violence offers new and manageable ways to think about reducing inequality while the lens of inequality shows that violence is a complex web of causes pathways and effects that requires a big picture approach to unravel The survivors narratives suggest innovative strategies for promoting a just transition through people driven transformation that go well beyond the constraints of South Africa s transitional justice practice to date A result of participatory research conducted in collaboration with and by Khulumani members this book will be of interest to activists students researchers and policy makers working on issues of transitional justice inequality and violence      We cannot continue like this Attie S. van Niekerk,Sytse Strijbos,2022-02-07 The book is based on the view that the present trajectory of modern development cannot continue as it is now because it is ecologically unsustainable it continues to enlarge the gap between rich and poor and the decolonisation movement has drawn our attention again to the specific role of religion culture and value in human affairs and the need for a robust element of indigenisation and contextualisation This book is strongly focused on the context of Africa with two chapters that are written by authors from the Netherlands for the purpose of presenting a North South dialogue The book contains a reflection on approaches followed in building sustainable human communities in general and reflection on specific efforts to solve sustainability issues It seeks to integrate academic reflection and insights gained from practical involvement with sustainability issues in local communities and low income households with contributions from Theology and Natural and Social Sciences      Mother Earth, Mother Africa and Mission Seblewengel Daniel,Mmapula Diana

Kebaneilwe, Angeline Savala, 2021-07-01 The volume is significant in bringing together voices of African women theologians and their allies on the urgent topic of ecology First it decisively intervenes into scholarly discourses on ecofeminism by highlighting the reflections of African women scholars and African women as subjects This function of the volume is very important both at local and global levels Second it contributes to contextualizing of scriptural interpretation around the issue of ecology Biblical reflection occurs throughout the volume and is put into dialogue with African traditions with ecofeminism with Africa based mission projects and with the current crisis of sustainability and African women's roles in protecting the earth Third the volume includes several concrete case studies based on interviews and grassroots qualitative research as well as especially original articles that integrate biblical exegesis of Genesis with reflections on patriarchal legal systems in Botswana and an original take on male headship in relation to ecofeminism Professor Dana L Robert Boston University USA

Feminism, Dramaturgy, and the Contemporary British History Play Rebecca Benzie, 2024-08-22 When we think of the contemporary British history play why might we automatically think of playwrights such as David Hare Howard Brenton Peter Gill and Edward Bond Because for decades the writing of the history play has been the preserve of the white male This book provides a vital feminist intervention into the dramaturgy of history plays investigating work produced at major British theatres from 2000 to the present written by a generation of innovative women playwrights This much needed study explores the use of history specifically Elizabethan Restoration Victorian and early 20th century in contemporary playwriting in order to interrogate the gender politics of this work Within the framework of contemporary feminism including the pivotal MeToo movement the book looks at post 2000s feminist drama that somehow represents the past Through delving into the recurring tropes and their politics in the light of current feminist debate the author helps us grasp how these plays essentially re imagine gender politics Plays that are considered include Emilia Morgan Lloyd Malcolm Swive Elizabeth Ella Hickson An August Bank Holiday Lark Deborah McAndrew The Empress Tanika Gupta Red Velvet Lolita Chakrabarti Scuttlers Rona Munro I Joan Charlie Josephine Blue Stockings and Nell Gwynn Jessica Swale and the musical Six Toby Marlow and Lucy Moss
