Alexander, Curtis P. Shelton, 2014-07-03 This book is a re introduction to psychology It focuses on great scholarly thinkers beginning with Plato Marcus Aurelius and St Augustine who gave the field its foundational ideas long before better known founders such as Galton Fechner Wundt and Watson appeared on the scene Psychology can only achieve its full breadth and potential when we fully appreciate its scholarly legacy Bruce Alexander and Curtis Shelton also argue that the fundamental contradictions built into psychology's history have never been resolved and that a truly pragmatic approach as defined by William James can produce a layered psychology that will enable psychologists to face the fearsome challenges of the twenty-first century. A History of Psychology in Western Civilization claims that contemporary psychology has overemphasized the methods of physical science and that psychology will need a broader scientific orientation alongside a scholarly focus in order to fully engage the future.

Eerika Koskinen-Koivisto, 2014 In this study I examine the life narrative of a female factory labourer Elsa Koskinen ne Kiikkala born in 1927 I analyze her account of her experiences related to work class and gender because I seek to gain a better understanding of how changes in these aspects of life influenced the ways in which she saw her own worth at the time of the interviews and how she constructed her subjectivity Elsa's life touches upon many of the core aspects of 20th century social change changes in women's roles the entrance of middle class women into working life women's increasing participation in the public sphere feminist movements upward social mobility the expansion of the middle class the growth of welfare and the appearance of new technologies What kind of trajectory did Elsa take in her life What are the key narratives of her life How does her narrative negotiate the shifting cultural ideals of the 20th century A life story a retrospective evaluation of a life lived is one means of constructing continuity and dealing with the changes that have affected one's life identity and subjectivity In narrating one's life the narrator produces many different versions of her/himself in relation to other people and to the world These dialogic selves and their relations to others may manifest internal contradictions Contradictions may also occur in relation to other narratives and normative discourses Both of these levels subjective meaning making and the negotiation of social ideals and collective norms are embedded in life narratives My interest in this study is in the ways in which gender and class intersect with paid labour in the life of an ordinary female factory worker I approach gender class and work from both an experiential and a relational perspective considering the power of social relationships and subject formations that shape individual life at the micro level In her narratives Elsa discusses ambivalence related to gendered ideals social class and especially the phenomenon of social climbing as well as technological advance I approach Elsa's life and narratives ethnographically The research material was acquired in a long standing interview process and the analysis is based on reflexivity of the dialogic knowledge production and contextualization of Elsa's experiences In other words I analyze Elsa's narratives in their situational but also socio cultural and historical contexts Specific episodes in one's life and other significant events constitute smaller narrative entities which I call micro narratives The analysis of micro narratives key dialogues and cultural ideals embedded in the interview dialogues offers perspectives on experiences of social change and the narrator's sense of self
